

SENATE DEFINES TARIFF ATTITUDES

SUPPORTS WILSON'S VIEW REGARDING WOOL AND SUGAR LISTS.

MAY AMEND OTHER SCHEDULES

Democratic Members of Finance Committee Hold Another Session.
Pottery Interests Protest.

Washington, April 10.—The senate's attitude on President Wilson and the new tariff bill became fairly well defined today after another meeting of the democratic members of the finance committee. Briefly, the senate committee will agree to accept the view of the president and the house as to free wool and one-cent sugar, with the free in three years attachment, but it will retain its right to amend other schedules and provisions of the bill as it thinks best.

The conference with the president yesterday brought a working agreement, under which both the executive and the senate leaders have indicated certain points. The senate democrats do not propose to make the senate liable to having impeded the progress toward tariff reform.

Changes will be made in many of the schedules, the hope of the woolmen has been started today with consideration of the first schedule in the bill. Some of the changes regarded as necessary by the senate leaders may be carried over to the house and put into the bill in the democratic caucus still in progress there.

The senate leaders reserve the right to make changes after the bill reaches the senate, where they consider them necessary to make the tariff revision more equitable and scientific. The decision to stand with the president upon the wool and sugar tariff issues has brought the various forces of democratic control into practical unity. It is claimed. Should the president and the house majority refuse to accept any change in the wool and sugar schedule, it is understood the senate committee will lend its support to the same program.

Fight on Wool Increases.
The fight against free wool, however, has become more acute at both ends of the capital, and several state delegations in the house are appealing to democratic senators for support in the fight to retain some duty.

The democratic caucus of the house had reached only the third schedule of the new bill at the end of today's work. Representative Underwood and other democratic house tariff leaders were making no apparent effort to limit debate or hasten a party decision on the bill. This deliberate progress has raised the hope of the wool and sugar interests that they may be able to organize sufficient strength to change the bill in the caucus so that it will pass the house with at least a small duty on wool and without the provision to make sugar free in 1915. This opinion is strengthened by the attitude of the senate democrats. Many of them who favor at least a small wool and sugar tariff are lending their influence to the fight in the house with the hope that the issue can be fought out there and will not have to be settled in the senate.

No Changes Yet.
Representative Underwood and his associates of the ways and means committee succeeded in piloting the tariff bill through another day's debate in the house caucus without any changes in its rates. Many phases of the tariff were gone into, with demands for changes in duties coming from many quarters. The greater part of the day was devoted to work on the cotton schedule, which was finally approved after a plea from Speaker Clark and Representative Underwood for party harmony.

The schedule evoked a lively expression of views. The present tariff is 60 per cent on most of the cotton and 25 per cent on cheaper classes. The democratic revision would reduce the 60 per cent cotton to 35 and 40 per cent and the 25 per cent to 15 per cent.

Claims Small Profit.
Representative Underwood from the East Liverpool (Ohio) district, pleaded for retention of the present tariff and declared that on an investment of $50,000 American pottery interests produced barely 6 per cent last year.

When the tariff schedule was taken up, Representative Webb of North Carolina and others tried to get a reduction of the proposed rate on card clothing, a material used on the machines of textile manufacturers. The present law taxes card clothing 55 per cent and the pending bill would make it 40 per cent. Representative Underwood said tonight that he thought the caucus would be almost through with the bill by Saturday night, and that he expected from the harmonious proceedings of the caucus, that the house would pass the bill before the first of May.

Representative Broussard will present an amendment when the sugar schedule is taken up tomorrow, and it is said that four other Louisiana representatives are counted on to vote with him against the bill if it comes up in the house with anything like the present reduction on sugar.

The caucus adjourned shortly after 6 o'clock until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Autoist Killed.

Muskogee, Okla., April 10.—J. Hensley of Tulsa was instantly killed and Robert Eike of Muskogee seriously injured this afternoon when their automobile was struck by a passenger train. Eike was hurled into the air and alighted on the locomotive pilot, clinging to it until the train stopped.

Brailley Goes to Jones County.

Austin, Texas, April 10.—F. M. Brailley, state superintendent of public instruction, left tonight for Stamford, Jones county, where he will deliver an address to the Central West Texas teachers' association and the school trustees of Jones county.

Morgan Selected Songs to Be Sung at His Funeral; Wishes to Be Observed

The children and widow of J. Pierpont Morgan will observe the written instructions of the financier regarding his funeral services. Besides the son, there are three daughters, Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. William P. Hamilton and Miss Anne Morgan. The above pictures, reading from left to right are: Mrs. William P. Hamilton, Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan and Miss Anne Morgan.

New York, April 10.—J. P. Morgan left written instructions as to how his funeral services should be conducted. In accordance with these instructions, simple ceremonies will be held over his body at St. George's church, of which he was senior warden, next Monday. They will consist of the Episcopal burial service without eulogistic addresses of any kind.

Mr. Morgan's body is expected to arrive here on the steamship France Friday night and it will rest in the Morgan library, adjoining his residence, until the hour for its removal to the church.

Only immediate relatives and the most intimate friends will be allowed to view it.

Following requests in the memorandum written by Mr. Morgan and left with the Rev. Karl Relland, rector of St. George's, the three bishops of the diocese with which the financier was most closely associated in his religious activity, will conduct the ceremonies, assisted by the rector. The bishops are the Rt. Rev. David H. Greer of New York, Wm. Lawrence of Massachusetts and Chauncey B. Brewster of Connecticut.

Three hymns selected by Mr. Morgan—"Asleep in Jesus," "Lead Kindly Light," and the recessional, "For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest"—will be sung by the combined choirs of the church, and Harry Lauder, a negro baritone of whose singing the financier was especially fond, will render the solo "Cavalry."

The rest of the service will include the usual burial chant from the thirty-ninth and ninety-third Psalms, the reading of the lesson from the nineteenth chapter of Corinthians, and the recital of the creed and prayers.

In expectation that large crowds will assemble, Mayor Gaynor has ordered details of police to guard the approaches to the church. The ceremonies are not expected to last more than three-quarters of an hour and immediately afterward the body will be taken to Hartford, Conn.

AMERICAN AGAIN WARNS MEXICANS TO GUARD LEAD

Washington, April 10.—Brigadier General Bliss, in command of the American forces on the Mexican frontier, reported to the war department today that in consequence of the reported falling of Mexican bullets in American territory he had again warned the commanders of the constitutionalist and the federal forces now battling at Naco, Mex., that more firing across the border would not be tolerated.

Both the commanders, he said, had promised to do their utmost to prevent cause for complaint.

General Bliss reported the falling of many bullets into the American town of Naco, and said that while this shooting into American territory was not malicious, it could not be considered accidental. American lives and property have been in constant jeopardy for nearly a week.

General Bliss thinks his force of American soldiers is adequate to control the situation, although the difficulty is increased by the collection of many outside people in the town.

REBELS FAIL TO CAPTURE NACO.

Constitutionalist Commanders Blame One Another.

Naco, Ariz., April 10.—Failure to crush the small federal garrison at Naco, Sonora, after two days' fighting in which the defenders took the aggressive, developed today. Colonel Calles moved the larger portion of his group to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz.

After two conferences the constitutionalist chiefs failed to agree. Colonel Calles and Bracamonte blamed General Obregon for the failure of artillery to arrive. The commander in chief laid the delay on Governor Pascual, who had promised cannons from Hermosillo, the state capital.

General Obregon in the border town. There was no resumption of fighting. The federalists are expecting strong reinforcements from Northwestern Chihuahua. President Huerta is said to have ordered a strong column to hasten to Ojeda's assistance.

CUBA MAY ASK NEW TREATY

Cuban Minister Protests to Bryan of Proposed Revision of Tariff on Sugar.

Washington, April 10.—Looking towards the possible preparation of a new reciprocity treaty between Cuba and the United States, Cuban Minister Rivero had a conference today with Secretary Bryan on the effect of the coming tariff revision upon the sugar and tobacco producers of Cuba.

A new treaty will be asked for, through as introduced by the ways and means committee, with such reductions as would injure the sugar and tobacco interests of his country. Secretary Bryan encouraged him to believe, he said, that the new administration would do all in its power to continue and develop further, if possible, the growing trade between Cuba and this country.

CURRENCY REFORM BILLS PLENTIFUL TO RELIEVE MONEY STRINGENCY

Three General Laws Now Before Senate—One Recommends National Board of Seven Members.

Washington, April 10.—New currency reform bills were introduced in the house today by Representatives Prouty of Iowa, Nelson of Wisconsin, and Palmer of Pennsylvania. Congress now has nearly a dozen bills covering all branches of the monetary and currency reforms, but none of which bear the endorsement of the financial committees of the two houses, or of President Wilson.

Representative Carter Glass, who probably will introduce the measure about which the reform debate will center in the house, conferred today with Secretary McAdoo of the treasury, who has been gathering information from banks on certain phases of the financial situation. Mr. Glass said at the end of the conference that there will be no difference of opinion between himself and the secretary of the treasury over the bill that he will introduce.

An effort will be made in the senate to have further hearings, particularly on the subject of money stringency at crop moving times and the seasonal demands for money. Senator Hitchcock, a member of the banking and currency committee of the senate, said today he would ask for hearings at which more detailed facts could be secured as to local demands for money and local problems that should be considered when Congress finally takes up the work of reforming currency methods.

Three General Bills.

Three general bills are now before the senate. The Weeks bill embraces the plan of the national monetary commission for a national reserve association, or a central bank, through which all banks will secure their note currency. The Hitchcock bill proposes twenty distinct reserve associations, each with the power to issue notes to its members and to buy and sell commercial papers. The Jones bill proposes sixteen subtreasury districts, each subtreasurer being empowered to issue currency to banks on approved bonds. Under this bill the postoffice national monetary commission would be established. The measure would impose a penalty of ten years' imprisonment upon any person guilty of trying to "corner" currency, either directly or through a "chain of investments."

Of the bills introduced today that of Representative Nelson proposes a national currency board of seven members, with power to issue treasury notes through "local associations of reserve and discounts."

That of Representative Prouty would create a new emergency currency similar to that created by the Aldrich-Vreeland law now in force, but which would be much more accessible for banks. Under this measure the emergency notes, in amount equal to 40 per cent of a bank's capital and surplus, could be stored in the bank's vaults and put into circulation with consent of the comptroller of the currency. A general banking bill also has been introduced by Representative

WILSON TO HEAR FARMERS' NEEDS

MARKETING AND FARM CREDITS
COMMITTEE TO VISIT WASHINGTON.

TO APPEAL FOR FEDERAL AID

Currency Reform, Publicity of Crop Reports and Establishment of a Bureau Among the Benefits.

Chicago, April 10.—A committee authorized today at the closing sessions of the conference on marketing and farm credits, will go to Washington in a few days and present to President Wilson conclusions of the 509 scientific agriculturists, financiers and economists who have met here for three days.

They will appeal for the establishment by the government of a bureau for the thorough study of markets, crops and cost of transporting food stuffs.

They will assert that the appropriation of $50,000 for such an organization is now pressing, should be increased to $100,000.

They will ask for federal loans to farmers.

The chairman, Frank P. Holland of Texas, also will name a committee in each state to place the matter before the state governments.

Arrangements were undertaken for a second national conference to open in Chicago on April 14, 1914, and for an international conference at San Francisco in 1915.

Texans on Committee.

The members who will go to Washington include T. D. Harmon, chairman, publisher of Pittsburg, Dr. A. C. Swell Ellis, of the University of Texas; John Sebastian, vice president of the Rock Island railroad, Chicago; E. W. Kirkpatrick, president of the Farmers' Congress, McKinney, Texas; Dr. J. H. Connell of the Oklahoma Agricultural College; Vance McCormick of Harrisburg, Pa.; M. P. Myers, publisher of Chicago; Charles A. Shamel, publisher of Chicago; Clarence Poe, publisher, Raleigh, N. C.; Arthur Capper, publisher, Topeka, Kan.; Lieutenant Governor R. S. McKelvie of Nebraska; E. W. Byrnes, publisher, Chicago.

To the president they will read the report of the committee on resolutions, which states, among other things:

Cite Waste.
"The cost of taking products of the farm to the consumers is unnecessarily large and the methods employed are wasteful. Expert and efficient methods for the distribution of the farm products are of present importance in reducing the cost and raising the standard of living. The government should establish an effective agency for the study of the problem of marketing and for the distribution of information as to conditions and needs and rational methods of meeting these needs."

The state governments, in similar manner, should take up the study of more economic and efficient systems of marketing. The universities, agricultural colleges, newspapers and organizations for the promotion of economic welfare, both in the city and country, should give them their immediate attention.

It is the opinion of the conference that the small farmer is at present unable to secure, for sufficient time at a reasonable rate and on favorable conditions, the capital and credit which he needs to purchase a farm or to procure the equipment and the material necessary for its operation."

Loan Problem Cited.
It recommends that "national and state governments and other agencies mentioned should give immediate consideration to the adequate means to which farmers may secure loans under favorable conditions."

"We favor organized co-operation, both of consumers and producers, under proper supervision and to promote efficient distribution, economical marketing and reduce expenses between producers and consumers; also organized co-operation properly supervised for securing more advantageous systems of rural credit."

"We urge the rapid extension and improvement of our parcel post as a potent factor in reducing the cost and facilitating the distribution of the products of the farm to the ultimate consumers."

"We urge the nation wide necessity of a general reform in our currency, banking and credit systems as the important legislation to be undertaken by congress. Comprehensive in this national plan must be facilities for securing the wide circulation of the notes of farmers, merchants, manufacturers and business men generally through proper discount and rediscount systems. We favor the enactment of both farmers and wage earners, also co-operative long-time land mortgage associations, as well as joint stock and long-time land mortgage banks."

The committee on distribution called attention to the fact that facilities for transportation were never better yet it is costing more than ever before to get farm products to the consumer. It asserted that every state college should have a market bureau, and that the subject had been emphasized at a farmers' institute. It recommended that secrecy be withdrawn from government crop reports, so that farmers may be furnished accurate data relative to the amount and source of the food supply, and also wherever the demand is and the amount required to satisfy that demand for each commodity.

"This is the only remedy for suggested markets in one part of the country and a shortage in another at the same time," it concludes. "This also would give the producer the necessary knowledge to market his goods with rational and business adjustment to supply and demand."

Palestine Saloonkeeper Shot.
Palestine, Tex., April 10.—C. L. Crouch, owner of a saloon, who was fatally shot late last night, is still alive this morning. Tom Finley, a bartender, formerly employed by Crouch, is under arrest.

With its descent upon Waco and vicinity last night the present cold wave paid its final visit, according to Dr. I. Block, voluntary weather observer. Fair and warmer is the prediction for today.

Local Temperatures.
Daily temperatures, furnished by Dr. I. Block, voluntary weather observer, for twenty-four hours ending Thursday at 7 p. m.: Minimum 43, maximum 62. Barometer reading 30.25. Humidity 80.

Government Forecast.

Washington, April 10.—Waco and vicinity and Louisiana—Fair Friday and Saturday; moderate north winds. West Texas—Fair Friday and Saturday. Oklahoma—Fair Friday and probably Saturday; rising temperatures.

M'Adoo Practically Revokes Former Rule Regarding Publicity

Washington, April 10.—Secretary McAdoo of the treasury late today practically revoked his previous order by which subordinates were forbidden to give out news, except through the secretary's office. The secretary issued the following amendatory instructions to his assistants:

"The secretary's memorandum with reference to the giving out of news was not intended to prevent the publication of routine matters of legitimate interest to the public. Heads of bureaus and chiefs of divisions may give to representatives of the press any ordinary news, but matter involving questions of policy or reform in the department should be submitted to the secretary for his approval."

20 KILLED IN R. R. WRECK AT TULA, MEXICO

Mexico City, April 10.—Twenty passengers were killed and forty injured in a wreck today on the Mexican Central railroad near Tula, state of Hidalgo, because the engineer yielded to the importunities of the passengers.

The engineer, fearing to run into the rebels, was moving cautiously. The passengers, however, insisted that he lay in greater speed, induced the conductor and engineer to consent to full speed. The train was derailed on a curve.

Time Changes Little.

"Thought of the peace advocates of peace and honor, though we have been softened by Christianity and have striven nearer to ultram in thought and act, the great fundamental underlying passions and springs of action in men are the same today as they were when Cain slew Abel. Human nature in the mass has changed little or none since the days of Pharaoh. The nations today are liable to change our rights and policies; with whom our interests most conflict are the strong men of the nations, armed and ready. The habits of expediency that we have followed must cease if we are to hold our place among the nations."

Captain Hood declared that such a building policy as he outlined has been formulated by the national congress in 1913, but never had been acted upon.

Perry Belmont urged the creation of a national council of defense as an expert body to advise congress on military questions and pointed out that none of the plans of the Democratic convention at Baltimore declared in favor of it.

Eight cities have sent invitations to the league to hold its convention next year within their borders. They are St. Louis, San Francisco, Buffalo, Nashville, Milwaukee, Boston, Denver and San Diego, Cal.

U. S. BATTLESHIPS ARE INEFFICIENT

SO DECLARES MEMBER OF NAVY
GENERAL BOARD IN REPORT.

EDUCATION OF PEOPLE NEED

Captain Hood Asserts Not One of Vessels Taking Part in Review Last October Complete.

Washington, April 10.—Not one of the 31 battleships and the 24 destroyers that constituted the fighting force of 157 vessels which assembled for review in New York harbor last October, was ready for war, Captain John Hood, the captain of the dreadnought Delaware, the pennant ship of the fleet, told the navy league today at its session here. Captain Hood, now a member of the naval general board, gave his views on a desirable naval policy.

"Not counting the British fleet with which no conflict need ever be feared," he said, "in 1920 Germany can put to sea forty-one battleships of which twenty-five will be dreadnoughts or dreadnought cruisers. Nothing of which seventeen will be dreadnoughts or dreadnought cruisers. Nothing short of the general board's policy of forty-eight battleships for the United States can even approach adequacy and a fleet inadequate is a burden without protection. At our present rate of growth we, in 1920, could put out against those armaments thirty-three ships all told, of which sixteen will be dreadnoughts."

"Fleet Too Small."

"At no time has our fleet been developed along lines to meet a definite end which should be the guarantee of the nation's peace. Today we have a fleet too small and heterogeneous to meet the ends which justifies its maintenance, and too large to be carried as a burden for a playing."

"Take as a basis of your naval policy a building program that will give us, by 1920, a fleet of forty-eight first line battleships, with lesser units and auxiliaries that go with them, since it is hopeless to attain that result by 1920, the date originally called for by the general board policy."

Provide and train enough officers and men on the active list and in the reserve to fully man this fleet for war. Provide necessary bases and arsenals and educate the people that no fleet is adequate for the preservation of peace which has not the strength to meet the enemy and say 'Thou Shalt.' Show them its trifling cost as compared with even the most successful war, even our war with Spain."

We have inherited from our fathers no enduring alliance but we have the Monroe doctrine. As the nations of Europe and Asia become overcrowded with their ever increasing populations this doctrine promises to be a fruitful source of contention and challenge, and that doctrine is 'no foreign land shall be the theater of war.' There is the principle of Asiatic exclusion; the principle known as the open door policy and there is our determination to assume military control of the Panama canal territory and its contiguous waters. I do not believe the nation stands ready to modify or abandon any of these principles and only a lack of knowledge by the people at large is responsible for keeping the country in a state of unreadiness to maintain them in reasonable surety, continued peace and honor."

Time Changes Little.

WOULD HAVE U. S. GOVERN DRAINAGE

NATIONAL CONGRESS FAVORS CREATION OF PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

FLOODS FEDERAL PROBLEM

60 Assests Engineers—Prevention Methods Too Great for Separate States, Is Claim.

St. Louis, April 10.—Work of the National Drainage Congress, which began a three days' session here this morning, moved rapidly and sentiment among the delegates apparently crystallized around the plan for the creation of a national department of public works.

The executive committee began a session at 8 o'clock this morning to shape definitely the proposals that will be submitted to the delegates. A plan for a department of public works with a cabinet officer at its head drew in the back ground the talk of the appointment of a national drainage commission, and tonight indications were that the old plan would be abandoned.

The creation of a department of public works was brought up in the forenoon after convening today, when Governor Major of Missouri suggested that David R. Francis of St. Louis would make an ideal head for the branch of the government service.

Mr. Francis suggested that Col. Goodrich, builder of the Panama canal, would be the man for the place. The plan was elaborated on in the address of Isham G. Randolph of Chicago, former chief engineer of the Chicago Drainage Canal. Mr. Randolph made an analysis of the flood prevention and reclamation problems confronting the people of the Mississippi valley and emphasized that the problem of floods control was one primarily for the nation and not for the separate states.

"The tribute levied by the floods," he said, "amounts up to thousands of human lives and into millions upon millions of property destroyed."

Mr. Randolph then said there were not enough army engineers to supervise adequately the flood prevention and reclamation work that should be

GIRLS' PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

Y. W. C. A. WORKERS ADVANCE REMEDIES OVER PRESENT CONDITIONS.

CONDITIONS AND SIN FACTORS

Speakers Assert Extravagance of Dress Common Evil—Cite Disinclination to Marry.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—Problems affecting the welfare of young girls were discussed at today's session of the fourth biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian association. How the association hopes to deal with them was explained by Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary of the national board.

Two things with which we contend," said Miss Cratty, "are conditions and sin, and there is a constant interplay between these two factors. We must make the conditions safe under which women live; we must educate their sense of values and help them to get their bearings among the circumstances of modern life."

An unusual tribute was paid Miss Grace H. Dodge of New York, president of the national board, who presented her report this afternoon. At her request the delegates refrained from applause, but when she was introduced the entire convention arose and remained standing for several minutes. Miss Dodge's report dealt with the growth of the association throughout the world.

In reporting for the committee on thrift and efficiency, Mrs. Samuel J. Murland of New York, dwelt upon the social aspect of extravagance, explaining how the society girl of wealthy households abroad and the daughters of the business or professional man of measurable income feels that her social success depends upon her ability to obtain the best American duplications.

Dress Too Extravagant

The salaried woman, she added, adopts a mode of dress relatively beyond her means, while the girl in the shop would be more than human could she withstand the force of the ever-present temptation to keep the pace.

"Different causes contribute to the growing disinclination to marriage," said Mrs. Murland. "Business opportunities of more expensive standards of living have made it increasingly difficult for men to marry. Such signs of the times with the rapid increase in divorce and the scarcity of homes must claim the consideration of every thinking woman."

Miss Ella Schooley of San Francisco, who told about the Young Women's Christian association work in connection with the Panama Pacific Exposition, said she understood thousands of young women were contemplating a trip to the exposition with the intention of securing work there to pay their expenses. She said the city already was overcrowded with workers.

The convention decided to meet triennially instead of biennially. The change goes into effect after the 1915 convention, which will be held in San Francisco during the Panama Pacific Exposition.

Fight on! Fight on! Is Women's Reply to Cat and Mouse Bill

London, April 10.—"Our answer to the Government's cat and mouse bill is 15,000 pounds added to our war chest tonight," said General Mrs. Flora Drummond, in closing the suffrage meeting at Albert hall, over which she presided. It was the biggest meeting ever held by the women's social and political union. The subscriptions included 1,500 pounds ($7,500 each), and two for $1,000 each. Among the American contributors were Mrs. August Belmont and Mrs. J. J. White of New York and Miss Zoila Troy of San Francisco.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. Drummond said: "Fight on! Fight on! That is the message Mrs. Pankhurst would send us from Holloway jail were she able to get it out—and fight on is what we intend to do."

George Lansbury, ex-socialist member of the house of commons, denounced the immediate release of Mrs. Pankhurst and her fellow prisoners and abandonment of "the torture of forcible feeding." He urged the militants to continue to burn and destroy property.

STRIKERS PAROLED.

Silk Mills Workers Still Continue to Stay Out.

Paterson, N. J., April 10.—Forty-four strikers, arrested several days ago on a charge of unlawful assembly at the Hosiery Mills, today were paroled on their own recognizance by the recorder's court.

Wm. D. Haywood, chief organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, declared in a speech today that the strikers would never compromise or forsake the Industrial Workers. The strikers are said, however, to have practically decided to have a committee attend the conference next Monday of city officials, mill owners and Paterson business men which will endeavor to end the strike.

Efforts of the city council to bring about the conference, however, apparently failed tonight when it was announced that the employers had rejected the proposal to send a committee of five to the strike. It was announced they had decided not to deal with outsiders in reaching a settlement.

Flagler's Condition Unchanged.

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 10.—The condition of Henry M. Flagler tonight is said to show no material change. During the past few days he has been unconscious part of the time and is said to be growing weaker each day.

Silver King, the polar bear in the Central Park menagerie, New York city, has shown such a decided admiration for gunshots that Bill Snyder, the head keeper, thinks that gunshots must have been distributed promiscuously around the North Pole. Dr. Cook even went into the far north with his straw hat.

WORLD'S GREATEST STRIKE IS EVIDENT

HOPES TO AVERT MANHOOD SUFFRAGE FRAGE OUTBURST ARE VANISHING.

FIGHT OF ORGANIZED LABOR

Belgium Workmen Threaten to Lay Down Their Tools Monday. Fears Increase.

Brussels, April 10.—All the hopes that the general strike for manhood suffrage would be averted have vanished one by one, and it now seems certain that the most sweeping attempt yet made in the world's history to apply the methods of organized labor for purely political ends will begin Monday.

The leaders in the movement display the utmost confidence. The strike fund now amounts to approximately $3,000,000 and fresh contributions from home and abroad are pouring in hourly. The Belgian workmen of Boston, Olneyville and Manchester, United States, have sent $200.

The bulk of the conservative middle class population who have, up to the present, because of assurances of the government and clerical press that the strike was but a bluff and a hoax, are beginning to be badly scared and their fears are increased by forebodings of disorders and brigandage, with which a certain section of the press is filled. Many storekeepers as a consequence have announced that they would close their establishments and place their valuables in security. The rush to obtain stocks of provisions is increasing.

Socialists Quiet

The socialists, however, profess to believe that the measures they have taken are fully adequate to prevent serious trouble. They urge prohibition of the sale of liquors and the closing of the saloons and have themselves forbidden parades and meetings of their adherents.

The government, working in conjunction with the provincial and communal authorities, is putting the finishing touches on its measures to preserve order, but as yet hesitates to call out all sections of the militia, not wishing too greatly to exaggerate the importance of the movement and also cause it fears a repetition of the acts of mutiny which occurred after the last elections.

The strike committee has decided that the Ghent exposition shall be considered a neutral zone and that workmen employed there shall be free to continue at their tasks if they so please. There has been a considerable exodus of working men and their families, with their goods and chattels, across the French frontier.

Under the present system of voting, toward the abolition of which the strike is directed, every citizen over 25 years of age has one vote. Every citizen over 35 years of age, with one or more children, and paying a dollar or more in public tax, has a supplementary vote, as has also a citizen over 25 years of age who owns $500 worth of real estate. Two supplementary votes are given to graduates of universities or men who hold office, or who are ex-officio officeholders. No person has more than three votes, and failure to vote is a misdemeanor.

In 1911 the number of voters was 1,700,000, of whom 995,000 had one vote; 355,000 two votes and 310,000 three votes.

Cotton Manufacturers Adjourn.

Washington, April 10.—The final session of the convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association ended tonight with the election of officers. The nominations committee appointed for the first day of the convention had prepared a slate. Reports of the secretary and treasurer and of the committee on resolutions and the committee on tariff and other legislation were read.

For three years succeeding the completion of the interurban, Franklin merchants have done a larger business than in any other three years in the history of the town, each year showing an increase over the preceding year.

"While this, no doubt, has been the case in all other towns over the country, due to general prosperity, Franklin, notwithstanding her interurban connection with Nashville, has gone right along enjoying an increased business from year to year, just as other towns in the state have done. Real estate values have advanced steadily, as have also the rents, and they are still going on."

"There is not a vacant residence or business house in Franklin and while this has been true for a number of years, still, it is also true that a large number of houses have been built during these several years, and yet the ban was built have been sorely disappointed."

"Business houses that now rent for $500 a year rented a few years ago for $300, and residence property has advanced in the same proportion."

"To take the interurban away from us now would be to set us back at least ten years. Those knockers who predicted that grass would grow in the streets of Franklin when the interurban was built have been sorely disappointed."

An interurban line from Nashville to Gallatin is now being completed and is expected to be in operation by April 1. Citizens of Sumner county subscribed $50,000 to the enterprise and it is proposed to raise more money and make a fifty-mile extension to Kentucky. The Gallatin News says the road already has added more than a million dollars to the value of Sumner county real estate. According to the paper the books of the county register show that more than $50,000 in profits have been realized by citizens along the line in sales of land.

The "damage" which interurbans do to small towns merely exists in the imagination of timorous folks. Franklin and Gallatin have experienced it and will be more than glad to be "damaged" some more in the same way.

CARMENS' STRIKE UNSETTLED

Attempted Negotiations Split on Question of Dealing Regarding Wages and Hours.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—Negotiations for a settlement of the strike of carmen of the International Railway company through the mediation of Mayor Fuhrman came to a deadlock late today.

The split was upon the question of dealing with a committee of the union as to the adjustment of wages and hours for which the men struck.

Both sides agreed upon all other points, including the acceptance of the mayor as arbitrator upon any question that could not be otherwise adjusted.

Street car service under military police protection was maintained on two of the principal thoroughfares for six hours today. The cars were sent to the barns at nightfall and the patrol withdrawn from the streets.

There was only one clash during the day and that not of a serious character.

Interurbans and Small Towns.

(Courier-Journal.) Although it has no justification in fact, the assertion has been frequently heard in the past that interurban railways build up large cities at the expense of small cities and rural territory.

The statement is still made occasionally, but evidence is all the time accumulating to discredit it. A few years ago when it was proposed to build an electric railway from Nashville to Franklin, Tenn., there were many citizens in the latter town who did not look upon the project with enthusiasm.

In a recent issue of the Gallatin, Tenn. News, an interesting review of the situation was presented in a letter written by O. S. Shannon, secretary of the Franklin Commercial club. Mr. Shannon said in part:

"For three years succeeding the completion of the interurban, Franklin merchants have done a larger business than in any other three years in the history of the town, each year showing an increase over the preceding year."

"While this, no doubt, has been the case in all other towns over the country, due to general prosperity, Franklin, notwithstanding her interurban connection with Nashville, has gone right along enjoying an increased business from year to year, just as other towns in the state have done. PEACEFUL END OF BALKAN WAR NOW IN SIGHT

London, April 11.—Indications of a peaceful Balkan settlement continue favorable. The Belgrade correspondent of the Daily Telegraph asserts that Serbia has decided on Russia's advice, to withdraw all the Serbian troops now investing Scutari.

The international blockade of the coast between Antivari and the Drin river began at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. All ships within the blockade were allowed six hours in which to depart.

The Russian government issued a long official communication last night, explaining the efforts of the powers to arrange a settlement of the Balkan problem and justifying Russia's consent to the annexation of Scutari to Albania on the grounds that this is necessary in order to preserve peace and because Scutari is purely an Albanian town, the annexation of which by Montenegro would only provide a source of embarrassment and difficulty, weakening instead of strengthening Montenegro.

In the communication it is charged that King Nicholas broke the engagement into which he entered to secure Russia's consent before resorting to war and adds:

"Nevertheless the Russian emperor magnanimously assisted Montenegro to attain her legitimate aims and warned King Nicholas that pursuit of personal aims with respect to Scutari would only condemn his people to useless massacre."

"These warnings were ignored apparently because King Nicholas believed that continued resistance would embroil Russia and the great powers in an European war. Russia therefore was compelled to act in concert with the powers in coercing Montenegro, but still hopes that the display of international naval power will induce Montenegro to bow to the will of Europe, in which case the powers will endeavor of alleviating the lot of Montenegrin people, who are overwhelmed by the executive sacrifices entailed by the siege of Scutari."

Baby Camel Joins Church.

Dallas, April 10.—A baby camel born one month ago at the Forest park zoo here was today formally enrolled as a member of the cradle class of the Oak Cliff Baptist Presbyterian church Sunday school. Officials of the class including Rev. Glen L. Speed, pastor of the church, signed the certificate giving the camel's name as "Heila." The certificate is the one usually used for infants, bearing the engraving, "For such is the kingdom of heaven."

Justice Seabury charged the grand jury that there was no legal reason why they should not receive Thaw's testimony, but that in weighing the testimony they should take into consideration the fact that he had been adjudged insane.

Appears Before Grand Jury Regarding Bribery Charge.

New York, April 10.—Harry K. Thaw came to New York today to testify before the grand jury investigating the alleged attempt at bribery to get him out of the Matteawan asylum.

Before testifying Thaw declared that hitherto he had given Governor Sullivan's investigators no information regarding Dr. John Russell, former superintendent of Matteawan, and attorney John N. Anhalt, accused of conspiracy to bring about Thaw's release, but as the "gentlemen have given themselves away, it is another kettle of fish and it is proper for me to give my information."

Justice Seabury charged the grand jury that there was no legal reason why they should not receive Thaw's testimony, but that in weighing the testimony they should take into consideration the fact that he had been adjudged insane.

"Clean Towel" Bill Losen. Harrisburg, Pa., April 10.—The "clean towel" bill which was designed to require a clean towel for every person in a public washroom, was defeated in the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature yesterday, receiving eighty-three votes or twenty-one short of the constitutional majority. The bill carried a penalty of $1 for the first violation of its provisions and $5 for each subsequent violation.

French Birthrate Decreases. Paris, April 10.—The birth rate in the French capital for 1912 was the lowest since 1881, according to a municipal report made public today. There was only one birth for every thirty families. The infantile death rate was 143 per 1,000. Prohibitive rentals are said to be the chief cause for the decrease in the number of births.

THREE APRIL DANCES FOR THE HUACO CLUB

The house committee for the Huaco club has notified members of three Friday night dances for this month. A further announcement is given that members will be notified each month of the schedule of dances for that special month.

THE FRIDAY BOOK CLUB HAS EVENING GAME

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Westbrook entertained the congenial evening card club known as the Book club on Thursday evening. Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Foscoe were invited to join the game. The recent book of fiction is their variable prize for this club. Mrs. Frank Miller received a copy of "The Flint."

THE CITY FEDERATION EXTENDS ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Several boxes of well packed books and magazines are now on their way to the penitentiary at Rusk. These were donated generally at the call of the club women. Mrs. F. J. Lennox in behalf of the club women makes public acknowledgment of appreciation to all who responded to this call for unfortunate humanity.

MRS. HARRY HOLMES WITH MRS. EUGENE EARLY

Among the social attentions which have marked the home visit of Mrs. Harry Holmes from Houston, Mrs. Eugene Early has been included. Mrs. Early called in to spend the morning several of the old friends of Mrs. Holmes, not an occasion really reaching the dignity of a social gathering, but one full of the friendship and mutual among hostess, honoree and guests.

SPECIAL NOTICE FOR CLUBS ABOUT DISTRICT MEETING

Mrs. Fred Robinson announces that the women who expect to attend the Fourth District meeting at Edna will leave Waco on Tuesday. In time to take the Wednesday morning train at 9 o'clock out of Houston for Edna. There seems to be some conflict as to dates. This is official. Rates will be on for this Tuesday passage. The meeting at Edna begins Wednesday evening.

A SUGGESTION HAS COME FOR COLUMBUS STREET

Now that it is once and for all settled that Columbus street will be both paved and parked, one of the women who notes things suggests that some distinction be given this street by a uniform planting of the pink crepe myrtle along the park border. This will give the dash of color and afford the blossom from June until September. Will any one take up the matter and secure consent of all the property holders to plant this small tree?

JEAN SHERWOOD SCHOOL TO HAVE SAN JACINTO

Their rendition of Hiawatha under the trees on the school lawn was such a creditable performance, the little girls of Jean Sherwood school have been requested to repeat this as a school benefit. The San Jacinto celebration at Sul Ross school coming as it does the Friday before San Jacinto, will give the repetition of Hiawatha.

the Friday following. In this it is intended to get more of an adult audience than was at the first appearance of these really creditable performers.

MISS WESTBROOK HAS BRIDGE JUNIORS

Quite a pleasant afternoon was spent at bridge with Miss Margaret Westbrook as hostess for the Bridge Juniors. Five members are now out of the city or are withdrawn temporarily, and as substitutes for these, Miss Westbrook added to the game the Misses Louise Baker, Jimmie Horne, Lambdin of Georgia, Marguerite Blair and Mrs. Leslie Gardner. Mrs. Gardner won the prize, glove handkerchiefs. The next game will be with Miss Enrique on the regular Tuesday.

THE MERRY MATRONS WITH MRS. R. V. MCCLAIN

So delightful has the Merry Matrons sewing club proved to the seventeen charter members, it is now under discussion whether or not the number shall be increased. The last afternoon found Mrs. R. V. McClain hostess, her special guest being Mrs. T. C. Edmondson. All the women had their fancy work bags and their full quota of small talk, but this latter subsided when Mrs. J. H. Egan began to tell of her school days with the Altons, who have just been executed in Virginia, over the sandwiches and tea it was decided that hostess for the forthcoming week will be Mrs. Isaac Mayfield.

MRS. LANDMAN AND MRS. FRANK ARE CARD HOSTESSES

In joint entertainment of the v. v. v. club, the Mesdames Maurice Landman and Abe Frank welcomed their guests into the home of Mrs. Landman on West Washington. Several were there by special invitation, they being Mrs. Dan Well of New York City, and her mother, Mrs. C. K. Weil, Mrs. Isaac Strauss and her guest, Mrs. Sassa of Galveston, Miss Spier of San Antonio, Miss Rose Friedlander. A third prize was in waiting for the leading score among the guests, and Mrs. Dan Well won it, a fancy atomizer. The leading scores for club members awarded a pair of silk hose to Mrs. Louis Lipschitz and a bottle of perfume to Mrs. Charles Sanger. The next game finds the Mesdames Charles and Asher Sanger hostesses.

WEDDING CARDS COME FROM TEMPLE BRIDE-TO-BE

Friends and relatives in Waco have received the cards of invitation which are issued by Mr. and Mrs. Flavius Foster Downs in Temple. These invite to the marriage of Miss Anna Downs to Henry Mackey Crosswell. The ceremony takes place at the Methodist church in the evening, followed immediately by a reception in the Downs home. A trip to the East will be made where a month's honeymoon will be passed in the country home of Mrs. Crosswell's mother. Returning, Mr. and Mrs. Crosswell will reside in Houston. Several from here will go down to the wedding, which takes place April the twenty-third.

FIRST FISH POND OUTING MRS. P. A. GORMAN HOSTESS

In courtesy to Miss Dora Williams of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. P. A. Gorman invited a party for dinner out at the Fish Pond. The response found a congenial all-day company with one of Mrs. Gorman's delicious lunch baskets to be unpacked and enjoyed on the boat house. The boats on the lake were unmoored as an additional pleasure to the drive and the enjoyment of a first season out doors. Those in the party were, other than Miss Williams, Miss Mary Moore of Tennessee, Miss Estelle Lively of Canton, with the Misses Alzada Knickerbocker and Frances Standiford, the Mesdames L. B. Smyth and Frank Allen with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reese and Walter Reese, Jr.

YOUNG MARRIED LADIES HAVE EUCHERE GAME

Mrs. W. W. Seley was hostess for a very pleasant game of the Young Married Ladies' Euchre club. Several members are at present out of the city, but opportunity was given to hostess for a table of guests. Selected for this were Miss Frances Lucette, with the Mesdames Pio Crespi, G. B. Foscoe, Louise Madden Brown, Chauncey Prude and W. R. Hays. A special trophy was provided for this contest, and it was won by Miss Frances Lucette. It proved a much coveted jardiniere of the new potter's make. Mrs. W. W. Pryor took the fancy Dresden plate, and Mrs. Mattie D. Willis the fancy little vicker device for holding ion bonns. Mrs. Howell McCullough was mentioned as the hostess for the following week. Mrs. Seley afforded a luncheon service over which the guests lingered for the social feature of the game.

SAINT PAUL'S GUILD HAS MANY GUESTS

The estimate is that one hundred women, all in spring attire and affability, responded to the at-home of Saint Paul's Guild for the purely social tea. Mrs. Forest Goodman as president, with the members of the Guild, received informally the younger matrons being assigned to the tea table. These were the Mesdames Harold Shear, E. E. Jarman, Benjamin Dean, William Edmond and Frank Wheeler. In the guild room stands and jardiniere of flowers with the brightly colored rugs gave the emphasis to something beyond the ordinary guild session. On the tea table the white and the crimson flower tone prevailed. It was all delightful in its informality, yet gratifying to the women who had offered this opportunity for promoting the social side of Saint Paul's parish life.

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR FOR THIS FRIDAY

WEDDING GUESTS TO DALLAS FOR SANGER-LIEBMAN

Beginning with several days ago, guests began to assemble in Dallas for the marriage of Joe Sanger of this place to Miss Edna Liebman of Dallas. Mrs. Lehman Sanger, mother of the groom, has been in Dallas several days. On Thursday the Mesdames D. E. Hirschfield and L. Emanuel went over. They were met at the station by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sanger of San Antonio en route to Dallas. Bert Sanger goes from the State University. Between this and the wedding date, which is Monday, Joe Sanger will go over, accompanied by his groomsmen, Charles Erickson, Joe Hain, Harry Archibald and Jose Hirschfield. Also, for the wedding, D. E. Hirschfield and Asher Sanger will make the trip. In the meantime, Miss Edna Haber has prolonged her visit in Dallas in order to participate in this notable event. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanger will be present, Mrs. Sanger having already gone.

MR. AND MRS. HOLDERMAN MEET GID MASSEY

One of the pleasurable incidents of the recent trip of Mr. and Mrs. M. Holderman to Panama is their meeting Gid Massey, who is now a resident of San Jose, in Costa Rica. The message comes to the old home friends that Mr. Massey will spend May with his Waco relatives and friends. Mrs. Holderman reports that he still retains a lively interest in anything which pertains to Waco, although he has prospered wonderfully from a financial standpoint in his adopted home. Mr. Massey has his bachelor quarters quite comfortably furnished. His home is one of the quaint towns of that country, and his immediate household companion is a bachelor like himself. Mr. Massey now ranks among the Costa Rica millionaires. He is reported to be a dealer in real estate from the "states" and Mr. and Mrs. Holderman count their visit with him one of their most pleasing experiences. He is thoroughly familiar with life and conditions in this foreign field, speaks the native language fluently and is happy as the sun in remembering his good friends, as one of Shakespeare's lines expresses hospitality. In the first old Philo days Mr. Massey was prominent in Waco social life. Many of his original remarks and his quaint comment. His return visit will be welcome indeed.

MRS. J. R. FERRELL FOR MISS BERTA MACKEY

Full of surprises and happy incidents was the luncheon courtesy paid by Mrs. Joseph Ferrell to Miss Berta Mackey as she is coming bride. In color device, Mrs. Ferrell confined her table tone to the white and the green. The green candles in crystal holders, the green peppers, and the green and white ribbons, all had the suggestion of the bride, and a boat design laden with spring blossoms in white and green. At each plate lay a tiny envelope held by green ribbons, opening, the guests were to read a question and give its answer, the whole forming the final love story appropriate to the sentiment of the occasion as well as of the season. While all was chatter about the table, the door bell rang and the parcel post boy brought a package for Miss Mackey. Opening it, she discovered a portrait of the young lady and a letter from one of her wistful suitors. This must be read aloud, the hostess insisted. Before the signature was reached, the post boy delivered another parcel. This, too, was opened and still another, until all Miss Mackey's love tales had been told, and the reckoning made, for the last and only suitor, Len Brooks. Adjoining to the parlor, a waiter with foliage center and burning candles was sent to the bride, to light the candles. The girls told fortunes by blowing out the lights, as many blown as years before the special wedding of the girl in question. Clever blunders, original with the hostess, were read concerning the love's secret of each girl. Those afforded this hour of full of enjoyment as well as of surprise in conclusion were: Mrs. James Mackey, Mrs. W. H. Penland, with the Misses Lola Barton, Eleanor Blair, Clara Primm, Gertrude Bush, Rebecca McKenna of Fort Worth, Minnie Willough, Grace Prather, Rowena Sturgis.

Society Notes.

In her special courtesy to the Woman's club, Mrs. Richard Munroe is adding a few friends whom she invited on Thursday.

Mrs. Susan Downs writes from Mississippi that great sadness is felt by the family over the flood outlook. Mr. Davis has been commissioned by the government to take affairs in hand. Mrs. Downs writes that her homecoming on this account is not even under consideration.

It is expected that the homecoming of Mrs. Grace Wigley from El Paso will occur within the coming week.

Mrs. A. B. Cowan, who went to the next change of residence will find Mrs. S. E. Shelton matron of her cottage on North Tenth near Columbus. Her first guest will be Mrs. Robert McMillan from South Texas. Miss Mary Shelton will also join her parents from the South Side.

In the interest of luncheon courtesy being shown Miss Berta Mackey it is an interesting note to see the device in decorations and originality which the several hostesses are showing.

Mrs. Claude Johnson having resigned, Mrs. Forest Goodman is again president of Saint Paul's Guild. The first bowl of bluebonnets has been noted. And what do you suppose it is? Upon the humblest doorstep of a Mexican home on Washington street. Who says flowers do not appeal?

Now that the bluebonnet season is here, should any anticipate using this native flower for decoration, bear in mind that kept in water the day before using adds materially to the poison of the blossom.

Tennessee for the Easter holiday with her son, Albert Cowan, is prolonging her stay in Lebanon indefinitely.

Mrs. M. Holderman's homegoing to Fremont, Ohio, is hurried owing to the reports she received of conditions there. Fremont has lost more than two million dollars, which means suffering and the necessity to relieve the poor. Hence a departure for Mrs. Holderman from purely philanthropic impulse. The Holderman residence, being high on a hillside, is not affected.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

NOW you have often said:—"Oh dear, I dread when eating time comes near. It's not so much the cooking, grub, but cleaning after,"—there's the "rub." Each kitchen holds a mass of work, no tidy little wife should shirk.

Gold Dust vs. Kitchen Worry

The kitchen floor, the kitchen sink, the kitchen pots as black as ink, the kitchen kettles and the pans, the silver, glass and cups and cans; wherever you may look, the toil means more than any kettles boil. To just "prepare" a meal is "fun," but work, with THAT is scarce "begun."

If those who stay up days and nights to win the cause of "Women's Rights" would only vote the GOLD DUST PLAN they soon would have the best of man. More time for comfort and for smiles; more time to play a woman's wiles, for once the GOLD DUST TWINS appear, Hard Labor's cry you never hear; frail woman is a queenly soul who plays the "Take-it-Easy" role. Each GOLD DUST package sets her free by bearing out its guarantee, and never more those household woes that every weary woman knows. Pile up the dishes as you will, the GOLD DUST TWINS will clean 'em still. Old floors and woodwork sinks and pans, turn out as Master Cleaner Plans. From sun to sun, and chore to chore, your tasks will fret you nevermore.

"Now that the city election is over, let's clean up," is a paragraph so common to Texas' press, these days, that we are impelled to repeat our original conclusion. Politics is the chief reason why citizens are permitted to violate public health ordinances and regulations. Does every man who is compelled to put his premises in sanitary condition and protect his food stock from dirt and germs swear that he'll vote for the other fellow next time?

"Those Wellesley girls," advises the Denison Herald, "who won't marry a man with less than $5,000 a year might well learn to pound a typewriter about as soon as they can." Why not advise their dads to learn and discharge the stenographer about as soon as they can, in the interests of economy and a long slice of supporting teeth?

The Texas Press Association is requested to bestow honorary membership for life on every editor and paragrapher who refrains from inquiring why should the spirit of mortal be proud in connection with the death of Mr. Morgan.

It's a delightful proposal the Seattle public school board is making: All high school girls must wear a uniform "to avoid jealousies." If there's one thing more than another we like to see it's a very, very fat girl in a grenadier's uniform.

Those who are insisting the age of miracles has not passed are pointing to the fact that a woman had a purse containing $3,500 worth of jewels that she dropped in a New York street, returned to her. This is no proof. The purse was returned by a Boston man.

Massachusetts has gone Texas one better—or worse. In Worcester they named a dead man to public office. In Texas we elect a live one to office and kill him by insinuation while in office.

If (as in Indianapolis) they dance the turkey trot to raise money because of a flood, why not the bunny hug at that San Antonio fiesta that commemorates a battle? And the grizzly bear on memorial day?

Eastern newspaper are excited over the report that two whites were hanged in Alabama for killing a negro. In passing, we would merely repeat that it is a report.

The shades of night were falling fast when to New Orleans' jail there passed a dame by copper's hand restrained and followed by a man whom pained. Hatpin.

Mexican congressmen have no needs to mail their constituents, but they can make themselves mighty popular these days by mailing cartridges.

England will give Cyprus to Greece—when Austria gives Scutari to Montenegro.

Our idea of desperation is the holding of a San Antonio street car.

MOTION PICTURE SHOW FIRES.

(Of interest to the charter committee.)

In our frequently reiterated appeal to the charter committee to write in the new charter the power in the city commission to ordain regulations for the safe construction of motion picture show halls, and safe operation of picture machines—an ordinance thrown out by the district court at the instance of a local showman, last year—we have called attention to statistics in the reports of theatre fires and the measures recommended at a recent meeting in Washington of the leaders of the National fire prevention movement. We have recommended a study of the New York, Chicago, Dallas and San Antonio ordinances, which are of the right sort, regardless of the percentage of violations in any one of these cities.

Some three years ago the writer was required to obtain data for a series of articles on the methods of providing safety regulations for places of public assembly, and accompanied the aldermanic fire committee, the fire chief and building inspectors of San Antonio on their protracted investigation of conditions in the theatres and numerous motion picture places. Conditions in San Antonio then were much the same as in Waco now, in many features. A drastic ordinance resulted. Whether that ordinance is well enforced is beside the point—and we understand the Waco police are quite eager to have a safety ordinance to enforce. We are dealing with local conditions solely, and the first essential is to get an ordinance to enforce.

The percentage of motion picture hall fires that originate in flimsy operating booths puts aside consideration of other causes of fire, though not of the proper facilities for speedy exit from the hall. The current number of Insurance Engineering calls attention to ninety-three fires in motion picture shows since the beginning of 1903 and reviews the subject of necessary precautions, summing up the legislation that has been adopted to enforce these precautions. To quote from the summing-up:

Apart from the matter of abundant exits for the audience, it is found that there are practically three dangers to be guarded against. These are, first starting in the operator's room; panic of the audience on perceiving the fire; ignorance and carelessness of operators.

In one Waco picture show the operator appears to make a practice of entertaining his friends or fellow employees in the operating booth, judging from the noises and witty comment on the pictures issuing from that cave.

To avoid these three main dangers (advises Insurance Engineering) the latest inventions are safety appliances to prevent films catching fire. In case of accident producing fire, the most modern form of operating booth is so constructed that the audience can be kept without knowledge of what is going on and in safety during the time needed to empty the theatre, the fire being shut off from the auditorium by walls of steel and asbestos. Finally the precaution that will reduce danger to a minimum is the employment of operators whose skill has been tested by examination, who are licensed by the city and under its control. The increasing number of motion picture shows is a reason for legislation insuring all known precautions, and especially the examination and licensing of operators. For their own safety, as well as that of the public, and to reduce the loss of property by fire, they should be men who have a knowledge of the electrical and other requirements of their trade.

Owners of Waco picture shows, gentlemen of the charter committee and the commission and the police department, have fared very well and very leniently at the hands of the citizenship. We are sure they, in their generosity and their gratitude and their public spirit, will be ready and eager to comply with all sensible regulations for the protection of their lucrative patronage, the risk-taking and unhappily indifferent public. It will cost a bit to bring some of these places up to a safety standard, gentlemen, but surely you will not let this stand in the way of protection for thousands of women and children, toward whom your duty is directed?

Waco has the finest residence streets in Texas, Galveston the finest surf bathing on the gulf, Texas the finest crops in the world.

MR. WILSON'S TASK.

Mr. Wilson's harking back to the custom of Washington and of Adams will be, and already has been, as much criticized as commended. He appeared in the house of representatives and read his tariff message in order to bring home more nearly to the Democratic majority the force and radical effect of the party's tariff revision pledge as embodied in Mr. Underwood's bill and his own estimate of its meaning. Certainly his method succeeded, for it was not difficult to arouse interest in that which is on every tongue and every newspaper page of comment from Bath to Sitka. He appealed as a "man of force" to men of force in the nation's behalf, standing not merely on his position as head of the government and the party's leader. His revival of the first two executives' England-inherited method was very much of an event for Washington statesmen, society and departments. He, and his demand that the tariff revision promise be fulfilled were, of course, received with the greatest interest, courtesy and a deal of enthusiasm. He may be encouraged to continue the practice in addition to his personal conferences with members of both houses in the capitol offices. His action has been acclaimed by the rank and file of the Democracy as fine-spirited and manly and of the essence of progressiveness in the "new" life of the party. Some, like Senator Williams of Mississippi, are finding much to say about "speeches from the throne" and Jefferson's abandonment of the personified conducted message as undemocratic, monarchical.

But all this, we think, is quite beside the point. The main fact is that Mr. Underwood's bill, the administration bill, the party bill, will be bitterly fought by Republican and Progressive minority, the nation's biggest manufacturing and farming and wool growing interests, and too many constituency-bound Democrats from these manufacturing and raw product regions. It is still reported the Democratic leaders are "confident" Mr. Wilson's program will be carried out to the dot. We are far from confident. And our real fear is that this split of the party in congress on the rock of tariff revision will so weaken and impair the party's power and unity that matters of as great moment this and the regular session must deal with will be seriously affected.

If every sign of the week in Washington is to be believed, there must be radical compromise on several phases of the Underwood bill's most radical features, or a split in the majority is unavoidable. The protestants therein still dwell most strongly on the president's promise that no industry would be destroyed by the revision, and point to the plea of the cane growers and the wool men.

Mr. Wilson's presentation of his program has evoked much praise, we repeat; but no representation by the president, however startling, of the party's duty to the nation can weigh with that which a strong group of these congressmen consider their duty to the commercial and industrial welfare of their State. None can doubt a very perilous time has begun for the party in power. And none anxious to see the party continued in power will deny that the administration's tariff program, obnoxious as it is to some of the States, must be effected substantially as it stands in the Underwood bill. If the pledge is to be redeemed, it becomes a case of the president, the leaders in both houses and the rank and file of the party versus the minority and the delegations of States most affected by the bill. It will be a titanic battle.

Since Mr. Wilson has both congress and the New Jersey legislature "on his hands," we presume he could not spare a finger for Austin in July.

DEPLORABLE ERRORS.

Winning, as they are winning, the support of the majority of better newspapers in every State in the Union and with the public (even in the South) becoming more inclined to listen with interest if not with immediate sympathy, to their able speakers and propagandists, it is unfortunate that American women suffragists should waste their time and cut into popular support of their cause by carrying the fight for the ballot to congress. The congress cannot interfere with the States' prescriptions of franchise qualification, and surely these intelligent women realize that acquiring the right to vote in national elections and for national officers merely means very little. There is a demand to realize the right of voice and vote in the election of legislators and the framing of social and industrial legislation, and to this end they should bend every law-abiding effort to convince States and legislatures of its righteousness. Congress, it seems, "is willing" enough, but the appeal to congress will not find favor with a great mass of voters who believe the State alone should regulate every condition of the suffrage.

Another recent "bad break" of too large a number of American suffragists closely allied with the national organization movement is the promiscuous expression of sympathy for American women who have butted in the rude slang tells the story better than any other phrase) in the militants' outrages against law and order and rights personal and property in England, and are now starving and sickening themselves in London jails to arouse public sympathy and compatriot indignation. The London jails are exactly where these law-breakers belong, and this government will not for a second consider the plea to intervene in their behalf. The militants are far from being the representative women suffragists of England, as Mrs. Snowden has been telling Texas audiences with marked effect, and sympathy for them in the punishment visited on them is, the world over, confined wholly to the less stable-minded of their sex. If English militants were to bring their methods to America the British foreign office would be the last to seek their release from the Washington jail.

Treasurer Burke is the best little amateur jester of the administration. He says a ten-dollar bill will last ten months.

LIBERTY AND LICENSE.

We take little "stock" in the reports that San Antonio is agitated concerning the possibility of the turkey trot and similar tanglefoot wriggles being permitted at the "coronation ball" in honor of the queen of Fiesta San Jacinto, this month. The fiesta as a whole is a "popular" celebration; to be sure, its show pieces and show persons and personages are recruited from the society of the north and south sides, and the coronation ball is not so popular that one can enjoy the gorgeous spectacle for less than two and a half dollars, but rich gowns and fine horses are indispensable for the street events and the populace is pleased and not a little honored that in the street events the owners thereof appear. The main point in our incredulity concerning the suggestion that the beautiful ball may be mired by the performance of San Francisco and New York public dance hall gyrations is that the fiesta is a city celebration; is the proud possession and advertisement of all San Antonio, directed by its most intelligent men and women in many respects; and San Antonio, cosmopolitan in spirit as it is, is yet not quite that "metropolitan" that it can afford to displease the better element among its residents by giving over this daintiest of fiesta social events to commonness and vulgarity. To be sure, the smoke of this suggestion is mostly newspaper paragraphic, but there is such a deal of this smoke that there must be a flame or two of real cause beneath. Hence this comment. We say we do not believe San Antonio society will permit turkey trotting, bunny hugging and tangoing and Texas Tommying at the Fiesta San Jacinto ball.

There has been some argument about it already, of the "evil to him who evil thinks" order, emanating from members of the disorganized national young turkey trotters' association. Coincidentally, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in connection with the turkey trot, uses the term "innocent preference"—which is altogether droll in such connection. It has no use for the fiat of city councils and legislatures against such dancing, it appears.

We do not (it says) defend the turkey trot. Our own taste may be at fault, but the turkey trot excites no more of our admiration than Cubist art does. On the other hand we are strong for personal liberty in the United States. If people who prefer turkey-trot to two-step cannot exercise this innocent preference it is high time to fight out another American rebellion. Whether a gentleman should blow his nose in his own parlor may be a question of taste, but it is not for law-givers to drive him into the cellar. When His Majesty George the Third was our blessed King we of America enjoyed more liberties in some particulars than we do now. If our forefathers who were loyal subjects of that beloved sovereign were to return to America today they would doubtless be arrested for taking rum in their tea in New York or for taking a pinch of snuff in Texas.

Doubtless they would not be. Nor would they dance the turkey trot, this hybrid product of immorality, over-civilization, a jaded social system being unknown "when Good King George ruled o'er our land, a land that now is free-ee-ee," and our forefathers enjoyed so many "more liberties" that they had to revolute to get any. The Post-Dispatch attacks as "sumptuary impudence" and "flat manners" the anti-turkey trot orders of Mayor Gaynor of New York and the Texas legislature, saying that "turkey trotting is rather a question of taste than of morals." We do not deny that a deal of this adverse agitation originated in the pulpit and the ordinal press, but many broad, highly intelligent and reputable secular newspapers have taken it up, and more good citizens have protested against public performances of these dive-invented dances than have protested against the regulation by Mayor Gaynor and the Texas legislature. Our honest belief is that this sort of conduct is not proper for public displaying; none may regulate what is done in the private house. The turkey trot will be danced in private ballrooms until it loses its novelty and another dance becomes privately popular because it is publicly considered immoral. We say there can be no such thing as "innocent" preference for the turkey trot, if by "innocent" the Post-Dispatch means unopprobrious. The press, the magazines, the pulpit and governmental bodies all have made known to the apparently intelligent "society" that dances the turkey trot the origin and original purpose of the dance. It is an open secret. In very commensurate, then, would the Post-Dispatch aver that if the character of this dance is known to the dancer she dances it "innocently?"

"Flat manners" may not amount to much, truly; but the time is not yet for American cities to permit public display of indecent dances any more than to permit public performance of indecent, suggestive, obscene plays and to permit publication and sale of obscene books and photographs. Real liberties may not be licensed or regulated, but license must be regulated if not actually forbidden, in public. Would the Post-Dispatch object to censorship by police authority of a public performance, literally "to the book," of some of those French comedies that in recent years have appeared much expurgated in America?

SHIPBUILDING INCREASE.

Returns received by the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce indicate the current fiscal year will show an output of American shipyards greater than for any of the past four years, and equal to the average annual output for any series of active years of construction. For the nine months ended March 31 the merchant vessels built in the United States and officially numbered by the department comprised 1,114 of 260,265 gross tons, compared with 1,051 of 151,341 gross tons for the corresponding nine months a year ago. As the spring and early summer are generally the season of greatest progress, the output for the year will probably reach 400,000 tons. Steel steamers built aggregate 151,567 tons, compared with 75,507 tons for the corresponding nine months a year ago. Shipbuilding on the Great Lakes shows little change, but the total output on the Atlantic seaboard has increased from 64,522 tons to 161,061 tons. Wood sailing vessels show a decrease and form only a small fraction—11,971 tons—of the total for the United States.

Texas Viewpoints

Too Much To Expect.
Our legislators should carve the congressional and senatorial districts in as close and compact form and as near square as possible, and let the near square and compact land and seaports and political aspirants land where they may. Their late antics at Austin are enough to disgust any man of common sense, and they know they have sworn falsely under their oath of office and others know it also.—Huntington Herald.

We should hardly go to the length of that conclusion—chiefly because it would avail as little as any other conclusion to eliminate the considerations of personal ambition and political scheming that have prevented redistricting in the two years past, and sent the special session of the Thirty-second legislature home quorumless. We have come hopelessly and heartlessly to the conclusion that what the Herald asks will never be realized. Texas will never be congressionally redistricted "on the square."

It Should Be "Loaded."
The movement a few years ago against the cat in the cracker box led people to favor original packages and thus to increase the cost of living. The suggestion to patronize only sanitary places of business, however, seems to be unloaded.—Galveston News.

It is good to note that in several Texas communities that suggestion is loaded and being discharged whenever occasion demands. It is the principle Commissioner Abbott of the State food and drugs department, urges as the first essential in the housewives' crusade for pure food, for the protection of the health of the home. Instruction and expertness in the preparation, care, branding and handling for sale of "human" food counts for little unless it is put to the practical use of familiarity with the methods obtaining in the sources of food supply, which are the shops of the grocer and the butcher, the fish market and the fruit stand and the restaurant. A glance at the records of the food and drugs department points this statement, for the greater number of complaints filed under the pure food statute are for exposing food, in such sources of supply, to the dust and dirt and germs of the streets and to over-handling. If the housewives, through their several clubs, are as solicitous for the thorough enforcement of this law as they have assured the commissioner they are, in his frequent addresses and conferences throughout the State, this is their first duty: to patronize only sanitary places of business. No, the suggestion is not altogether "unloaded" in Texas. The housewives of Cleburne, for example, recently conducted a thorough inspection of the food shops of that city and announced there must be "a cleaning up and a scrubbing up" in some of these places, as they would patronize only those shops that protected food from every sort of contamination and deterioration. That is the only possible way for the housewife to assist in the enforcement of the pure food laws, and she is the department's most valuable ally—for the commissioner has neither inspectors enough nor money enough, nor sufficient co-operation from local health authorities in most Texas cities, to handle this big task by official methods solely.

Call Him "Smithy" for Short.

It may stagger you to hear it, but every year or two some family blessed with a new baby bestows upon it a reasonable name. Most people, of course, continue to give the girl babies names that will sound well when they get into grand opera, and the boys are christened something that will land them in congress.—Menard Messenger.

It really did stagger us when we first came to realize that in this part of the world the single syllable you shy at a man when you want to attract his attention or invite him to the soda fountain is actually his name, his given, christened, sure-nough name, full and complete, sober and finished. We used to tell the boys to write it Edward or Joseph or William or Abraham or Jacob, only to be told pitifully and with superiority that it was Ed or Joe or Bill or Abe or Jake, the gentleman was in fact named. These are not necessarily congressional cognomens, but we would much prefer parents name their sons Washington Adams Smith or Jefferson Madison Brown or Roosevelt Taft Jones than rob them of the second syllable in less mouth-filling labels, that is their due.

To Be Disillusioned.

Chester H. Terrell, speaker of the House, and Cullen Thomas are two stalwart young Texans who are apt to be candidates for governor next year.—San Antonio Tribune.

Community Carriers.

One of the most peculiar traits of the human character is revealed in the manner we bear toward our fellow-men. We are ever ready to criticize, scandalize and rail at the faults of others. Very seldom do we stop to consider that the one carrying these tales will in a few minutes be at the ear of someone else with the same story about us.—Trinity Tribune.

Wages of Farm Labor.

Reports received from correspondents of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture indicate that the money wages of farm labor of the United States increased about 3.2 per cent during the past year, and 7.0 per cent during the past two years. Since 1902 the increase has been about 34 per cent. The wages of farm labor had an upward tendency during the decade of the 'seventies, when the average (solid basis) were almost stationary during the eighties, and declined from 1892 to 1894, since which year they have been steadily tending upward. Wages now, compared with the average wages during the past year, stand about 53 per cent higher; compared with the low year of 1894 wages now are about 65 per cent higher. The current average rate of farm wages in the United States, when board and lodging are included, by the month, is $2.51; by the day, other than harvest, $1.14; at harvest, $1.54. When board is not included the rate is, by the month, $2.58; by the day, other than harvest, $1.47; by the day, at harvest, $1.87.

MISSOURI, KANSAS AND TEXAS RAILROAD AND THE STATE.

(Houston Chronicle.)
The Chronicle unreservedly expresses the opinion that the suit instituted by the attorney general to prevent the carrying out of the provisions of the consolidation bill passed by the legislature is, to state it mildly, most unfortunate. That the bill was overwhelmingly and imperatively demanded by the people is true beyond all question. The consolidation affected the people living in all the territory from Wichita Falls to Waco and from Waco to Trinity, and from Trinity to Beaumont and Port Arthur, and the people who are the repository of all power, imperatively demanded that the bill be passed, and their servants and agents obeyed their behest. While the governor was opposed to the bill from the first, he was justified in submitting it to the attorney general, for his opinion as to its constitutionality, and when the opinion was given, he was justified in that ground in vetoing it; hence the governor may be eliminated from the equation and the responsibility be placed on the attorney general. That official is responsible for the halt and stay of building connections which are sorely needed and which will benefit many sections which have no railroad facilities at all. As the completion of the Panama canal draws near, all the great trunk lines are making every possible effort to get the end of their lines to tidewater, and that they should be able to do so is a matter in which four millions of people in Texas and countless millions beyond the seas are profoundly interested. The people have done all in their power to promote the attainment of that end. They pay the taxes; they pay the freight; they raise the crops; they buy the goods; they bear the burdens, and they have the unrestrained and unrestricted right to say what railroads they want and where they shall be built, and neither the attorney general nor any other man has the right to seek to thwart their purposes or prevent the consummation of their hope.

There are just as good lawyers in the legislature as is the attorney general, but, conceding that the constitutionality of the law is debatable, every doubt should be resolved in favor of the will of the people.

As the chronicle has said before, the action of the attorney general has very much the appearance of trying to get even with the legislature and the railroad because the former disregarded his opinion by passing the bill over the gubernatorial veto.

What is to be gained by giving the state new lines of railway? What can follow upon allowing a great railway system to get in touch at tidewater with the commerce of the world? Why should not the people of the imperial realm of the northwest, and those of Central Texas, and the dwellers in the pines, who have long yearned for a railroad, be given the benefit of a shorter line to the markets of the world?

Is it wise, is it politic, to interpose between the accomplishment of that desire a lot of legal construction and debatable constitutional questions and analyses of hair splitting decisions? Is the question so plain, so patent, so obvious that the official conscience of the attorney general is compelled to seek to thwart the popular will and desire? It is not. Had it been the bill would never have been passed. The home town of the attorney general is indebted for the larger part of its gratifying growth to the very railroad whose progress into other fields he now seeks to obstruct. It has spent millions of money in Texas. It asks the privilege of spending millions more. It appealed to the people's representatives for that permission and obtained it, and now one man, who was nominated by the very best of margins, rises to say, "The people be damned. I will not permit their commands to be executed." And the work on a great public enterprise is stopped, and the people stand disappointed, and millions of dollars are kept out of Texas.

This is the plain, unvarnished situation. How long will the people stand such trifling with their wishes? They have stood it too long already.

Friends of the A. and M.

(Hyran Eagle.)
Our esteemed contemporary, the Tyler Courier-Times makes the suggestion that the Agricultural and Mechanical college be located at Waco. We consider this suggestion as being made in a humorous vein, though we must admit that it is as logical as some of the suggestions which have been made by those who favor the absorption of that great institution by the university of the state. We now hear from Mr. Waco contemporary Houston Chronicle that the Waco Morning News with which Col. James Hays Quarles is connected is all right. It has been one of the staunchest friends of A. and M. has had through the fight. The Tyler Courier-Times is a friend of not only A. and M. college and is bitterly opposed to consolidating A. and M. with the university, and we believe as soon as set right on some of the false reports that have been circulating relative to the present location, it will continue to oppose consolidation, but will advocate that the great school remain right where it is.

Wages of Farm Labor.
Reports received from correspondents of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture indicate that the money wages of farm labor of the United States increased about 3.2 per cent during the past year, and 7.0 per cent during the past two years. Since 1902 the increase has been about 34 per cent.

The wages of farm labor had an upward tendency during the decade of the 'seventies, when the average (solid basis) were almost stationary during the eighties, and declined from 1892 to 1894, since which year they have been steadily tending upward. Wages now, compared with the average wages during the past year, stand about 53 per cent higher; compared with the low year of 1894 wages now are about 65 per cent higher.

The current average rate of farm wages in the United States, when board and lodging are included, by the month, is $2.51; by the day, other than harvest, $1.14; at harvest, $1.54. When board is not included the rate is, by the month, $2.58; by the day, other than harvest, $1.47; by the day, at harvest, $1.87.

ARKANSAS' GAPS RELIEVE SOUTH

THE MISSISSIPPI SHOWS LOWER STAGES AT MEMPHIS AND OTHER POINTS.

LEEVE WORKERS OPTIMISTIC

Battle to Hold Banks Continues. Breaks at Upper End of Golden Lake.

Memphis, Tenn., April 10.—Optimism marked the expressions tonight of those in charge of the battle to hold the levees in the central section of the Mississippi valley against the mighty flood-swollen river. Conditions, while still grave, were generally more hopeful.

Two gaps in the levee near Wilson, Ark., are serving as outlets for a great volume of water, relieving the strain on the embankments south of that point, and a day of sunshine has had its effect both on the dikes and in the spirits of the flood fighters. North of Wilson at Osceola, Laura and Harfield, the situation still is critical, although not so desperate as last night. South of Memphis preparations are being made for a hard fight near Helena and the levee just north of Beulah, Miss., where the crevasse of last February has shown signs of weakening.

At Memphis, the river fell one foot and two-tenths today, standing tonight at the high stage of last year, 45.3 feet. Mound City, north of Memphis, which was in danger of collapse last night, reported approximately the same fall.

The two breaks near Wilson, one at the upper end of Golden lake, and the other at the lower end, near the village of Randomshot, occurred last night, the first about 6 o'clock and the second at midnight. The result will be a more rapid spread of the overflow over a somewhat greater area. Wilson, a town of 150 persons, is flooded to a depth of about three feet. No loss of life has been reported.

The Randomshot crevasse is along the same stretch of levee that gave way during the flood of 1903. Near Beulah an old levee, over which railroad tracks had been built to convey material used in closing the break caused by the early spring flood, settled several feet for a distance of about fifty yards. The tracks have been torn up and a large force of men is engaged in bolstering up the embankment.

The Mississippi levee commission met at Greenville today and authorized the issuance of $50,000 bonds as an emergency fund to be used during the high water. Chief Engineer Shuckler assured the commission that the levees in that district would be brought to a height two feet above the high stages of last year within a few days. An Osceola dispatch describes the storm of last night the most severe of years at that point. Levee workers were driven from the banks by the washing of water over the dike and at Harfield the waves carried large timbers over the embankment.

Relief expeditions began the exploration of the flooded territory about Wilson today. A number of refugees were taken to Rhytheville and from there territory overflooded by the Graves dayton break below Memphis, 250 were brought to this point tonight aboard the government steamer Wyandotte. At Camp Crump about 1500 persons are being sheltered.

The recession of the river today brought corresponding relief to the flooded section on the north side of Memphis.

TREATED AS ONE ROAD.

Single Line Rates on T. & P. and Mineral Wells Route.

Austin, April 10.—Single line rates were ordered into effect on the Texas and Pacific and the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern railroads today. This case was heard on Tuesday at the regular monthly hearing of the railroad commission. Believing that the two lines are of a common ownership and under the same control the commission has ordered that they be treated as one after May 1.

Two cases were postponed for a decision in the near future. These were the matter of revising the baggage rules and the revision of general rules to prevent lower rates for longer distances than for those intermediate.

The following decisions were rendered: The adjustment proposed on screws, lag screws and vehicle and agricultural implement forklings and cast-ings; the readjustment proposed on lumber under circular 1178; the Texas-Kansas basis; the railroad's petition for an amendment to classification rule 3 so as to increase the severity of penalties for underbidding, underclassing and misdescribing freight to secure an unjust advantage in freight charges; the rates proposed for cotton bolls or grabbolls, the unopened bolls, with the exception of unginned cotton; the proposed rating on harness hardware, also those proposed for glass oil were all granted.

An interlocking plant was ordered installed at Brenham and Eagle Ford grade crossing of the H. & T. C. and Santa Fe lines.

A row over divisions on lumber from Sunset Central points to Waco for manufacturing purposes was dismissed.

The matter of an order requiring T. & B. V. to provide an adequate depot at Tehuacana was held in abeyance for 60 days.

On creosote oil or other wood preservative carloads, from Galveston and Texas City to Houston, a 54 cent rate was ordered.

The proposed readjustment of carload rates on rails and fastenings were granted as from Galveston to Beaumont but refused as to Orange.

Dismissal was entered in the petition for cancelling the special rates on cement from Harris and Eagle Ford to Houston. Similar adverse action was held as to applying the 100 article rates on "angle cap" and "round ridge roll."

In proposed amendments to the section of the lumber tariff applying on lumber for manufacturing purposes "Rough" was eliminated as to pine and express lumber, and in other things the application was approved.

"A simple and reliable remedy for skin eruptions, chaps, cold sores, pimples and eczema is Mother's Salve. It is healing, cooling, soothing and antiseptic in action. It should be in every family medicine cabinet."

"To restore plumpness and symmetry of form without becoming fat, the Vaucaire home treatment is recommended. Make a syrup with 1/2 cupful of sugar and a pint of water, and into this stir an ounce of gallot, take two teaspoonfuls before meals."

"Just worrying about hair falling out won't help any woman. A few minutes' work is better than hours of worry. Faded and brittle hair, falling hair and baldness are caused by a parasite that destroys the life of the hair. Mother's Shampoo removes these parasites, leaves the scalp healthy and clean and makes the hair fine and fluffy. Enough for several months can be bought at any drug store for 25c."

"Spotted, sallow and muddy looking complexions, together with skin eruptions, often present in the spring, require a cleansing treatment instead of face powder. An ideal complexion beautifier is easily made at home by dissolving an original package of noli-stone in half a pint of witch hazel. It makes the skin soft, fair and lovely."

"Plain pyroxin, applied with the finger tips, will cause the thin and straggly eyebrows to grow long, even, regular and darker in color. Pyroxin applied to the roots will make the lashes grow long, dark and silky."

"To remove superfluous hair on face or forearms, make a paste with a little water and powdered delatone over the hairs for two minutes, then remove and wash the skin. Delatone does not discolor the skin and is safe and sure."

WOULD PROVIDE DISASTER FUND

Proposed Measure Places $100,000,000 at Hand to Be Used in Emergencies.

Washington, April 10.—A permanent flood fund of $100,000,000 for relief and reconstruction work in localities laid waste by flood, fire, earthquakes and other catastrophes was proposed in a resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Carey of Wisconsin. The resolution would authorize the treasurer of the United States to issue $100,000,000 in notes to be held subject to the orders of the secretary of the interior.

A clause in the bill would provide that congress shall immediately authorize the building of dikes and levees and the strengthening and dredging of streams. In the event of catastrophes the bill would authorize the secretary of the interior to make loans to counties and municipalities affected, the legal limit of their taxation, making the taxes of the local security for the loan, and providing for payment in ten installments not covering more than twenty years. The loans would be made with the approval of the president and his cabinet.

A bill to appropriate $1,000,000 for the relief of flood disasters was introduced by Representative Claypool of Ohio.

LENGTH OF INFANCY.

Period of Helplessness Varies With the Size of the Animal.

It is often remarked that the infancy of human beings today is longer than it formerly was. This seems to be inevitable, owing to the higher state of society. In a general way the more highly developed an animal is the longer an apprenticeship it will have to serve before it is ready to cut loose from parental and other restraints and shift for itself.

Two interesting books have recently been brought out which treat of this matter of infancy as applied to the various animals. The period of infancy varies widely. Mice have practically no infancy, but at six weeks are parents of more mice. Human beings are helpless at birth and for years after. The horse is "grown up" at three years, while the elephant requires seven or eight times that length of time to develop fully. Thus the elephant is just entering upon life as it were when the horse is ready to die of old age.

In a general way, says the Pathfinder, the length of infancy tends to run parallel with the relative bulk of the animal—the larger animals requiring more time to grow and develop their full vigor. In some cases lower animals attain maturity only by a succession of curious stages. The shell of a crab when once hardened cannot grow and the crab is forced to moult or cast off its outgrown shell from time to time and grow a new one a little larger.

A crab when growing this new shell, is known as a soft-shell or "soft" crab, and at such times he is of course especially subject to attack from his enemies, as the shell which is his natural armor is wanting. In museums there are exhibits of as many as fourteen castoff shells of a single crab, beginning with a very tiny one and each one just a size larger than the last.

Shellfish have their skeletons outside them in the form of their shells instead of inside them. But what a waste of material is involved in a system which requires them to manufacture a new skeleton every new moult or at other short intervals, only to be thrown away as soon as it is finished.

The state of development of animals when born depends a good deal on the conditions that are to surround them during infancy. Young rabbits which are born in an underground burrow are blind, naked and helpless at birth; the young hare, which is own cousin to the rabbit, is born with its eyes open and covered with fur, and this because it is born above ground, where it is exposed to the weather and predatory foes. Thus in a measure each is suited to its surroundings.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY
Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is excellent for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

I. & G. N. SHOP CASE.

Palestine's Suit is Being Heard in the Supreme Court.

Austin, Texas, April 10.—The hearing of the county of Anderson and the city of Palestine against the International and Great Northern railway was opened here this morning in the supreme court. Six hours is to be devoted to the argument of the case.

The city of Palestine and the county of Anderson gave to the I. & G. N. railway a bonus and land to locate its headquarters in that city. This was done, but later the railroad company moved its office headquarters, retaining shops in Palestine.

Suit was brought to enforce the return of the general offices to Palestine. A large number of attorneys appeared today in behalf of both parties.

Representing the I. & G. N. railway are Judge N. A. Stedman of Williams & Stedman, Austin; Frank Andrews of Houston, and G. B. Dabney of Houston. In behalf of the county of Anderson and the city of Palestine appeared T. B. Greenwood, A. G. Greenwood and Clarence Campbell. Other lawyers were in attendance, but argument devolved upon those mentioned.

HIGHER TAX RATE SAYS EDWARDS

STATE CANNOT PAY THE BILLS
AT 10 CENTS ON $100
VALUATION.

WARRANTS CANNOT BE CASHED

Those Issued in April Will Not Be Paid Until June—Treasury Is Badly in the Hole.

Austin, Tex., April 10.—There necessarily must be an increased tax rate," said Treasurer J. M. Edwards today in speaking of the condition of the state treasury. The present ad valorem tax rate is 10 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

The state treasurer issued the following today:

To the holders of state warrants and banks and bankers of Texas. Gentlemen:—You are doubtless aware of the fact that the revenue fund of this state has been exhausted, and we are facing a heavy deficiency and that there will not be sufficient funds in the state treasury to pay revenue warrants as fast as they are issued, until January or February, 1914, and in view of the fact that a large number of warrants will be offered to the banks of the state for discount, and in order to give some idea as to when they will be cashed by the state, I am herewith submitting a statement based upon the disbursements for April, May, June, July and August, 1912, and the receipts for the months of April to December, 1912, inclusive, and the month of January, 1913.

The Thirty-third legislature, which has just adjourned, made special appropriations to the amount of something like $1,125,000, and of this amount there has been expended something like $325,000, and leaving a balance of approximately $800,000 that will be expended during the next five months. We have no knowledge of just when warrants will be issued against this $800,000, but it is to be presumed that part of it will not be drawn until August, therefore I have divided the $800,000 equally between the months of April, May, June, July and August, which will add $160,000 to the regular disbursements for each of the months above mentioned.

Taking the figures for 1912 as a basis, presuming that our receipts are the same as last year, and that the regular disbursements for the five months mentioned above will not exceed those of 1912 with the exception of the special appropriation made and included, my opinion is that all outstanding warrants issued prior to April 1 will be paid not later than May 1. Warrants issued in the month of April will be paid not later than June 15, 1913.

Warrants issued in the month of May will be paid not later than August 14, 1913.

Warrants issued in the month of June will be paid not later than November 4, 1913.

Warrants issued in the month of July will be paid not later than December 9, 1913.

Warrants issued in the month of August will be paid not later than January 20, 1914.

Warrants issued after the month of August will not be paid until the month of February, 1914.

As we accumulate funds calls will be made from time to time for outstanding warrants. The final date of payment as stated above does not mean the dates on which calls will be made. Between the dates of May and June 15, for example, in all probability we will issue from three to five calls for outstanding warrants, issued in April, and by that method warrants issued April 1 would probably be paid by the 10th or 15th of May or in other words, I am of the opinion that we will be able to pay all warrants issued during the month mentioned not later than the date shown opposite each month.

The above figures are estimates, based upon the 1912 receipts, and disbursements, and the special appropriations made by the Thirty-third legislature.

The receipts shown for last year were collected under a twelve and one-half cent tax rate, and our collections this year are under a ten cent tax rate, but our collections for ad valorem taxes are very light at this season of the year, and as the tax rate for the coming year will necessarily have to be increased, our tax collections after September, under the increased rate, will more than offset the decrease from last year's rate, besides our franchise tax collections should be greater this year than last.

The amount of warrants drawn will doubtless be greater some months than estimated and some months will be less, yet I feel that the above figures are as nearly correct as an estimate could be under the present conditions, and I trust that this will be of some information to those who hold warrants and those who purchase them.

Will be glad to advise at any time numbers of warrants called for payment.

Yours very truly,
J. M. EDWARDS,
State Treasurer.

AS TO CORPORATION TAXES.

The Bill Affecting Delinquents Has a New Feature.

Austin, Texas, April 10.—Circumstances played a queer prank with the enabling act for corporations whose charters have been forfeited for non-payment of franchise taxes. It has been customary for the various sessions of the legislature to pass each session an act to enable corporations to revive their charters by payment of back taxes.

The time limit placed upon the rights of these delinquent corporations is generally from the date of the time the bill becomes a law until the succeeding January. This year, however, the date of September 1 was placed as a limit.

The bill introduced into both houses was sent to a free conference, from which it emerged with favorable revisions on March 29. Allowing the constitutional requirement of three months after adjournment before the measure becomes effective, the earliest date that corporations may take advantage of the enabling act is July 1. That allows delinquent corporations but two months to pay back taxes. Heretofore the time has always been six months or more.

TERRELL'S HIGHWAY BILL.

Chances Are the Attorney General Will Approve.

Austin, Texas, April 10.—Senator Henry E. Terrell of West was in the capital today in the interest of the Terrell state highway commission bill. The measure was sent to the attorney general several days ago by Governor Colquhoun, who requested an opinion upon three questions.

The attorney general has not passed upon the questions propounded, but indications are favorable that the opinion of the attorney general will not injure the measure. The governor has indicated that with certain alterations of the department he would sign the bill.

Hookworm in East Texas.

Austin, Texas, April 10.—Examinations for hookworm in East Texas have proved 52.7 per cent of those examined were affected. A total of 4,440 school children were examined by the experts of the state hookworm commission and 2,344 found infected. In San Jacinto county almost 95 per cent were found infected and 50 per cent heavily infected.

Experts reported last week that many of the examinations showed infection. Dr. Brownlee reports from San Jacinto 246 examinations, 189 of which were infected, and 159 treatments were given.

Dr. Hubert Terrell in Polk county, examined 311, and found 129 infections. Dr. H. H. Jenkins, in Walker county, reported 330 examinations, 138 infections and 182 treatments.

The Dallas Giants invaded Waco yesterday and a big portion of Waco's ball fans turned out to see the opening game of the season. The Giants harked their way to victory in the fourth inning, winning 4 to 1. The Navigators were no match for Manager Cavender's men. Manager Carson's team played loosely and were at the mercy of Mullins, the left-hander, who did the hurling for the Dallas team.

The fast fielding and terrific hitting of the Giants completely overcame the Navigators and Mullins did not waiver a single time to allow them a chance to even up the score after the first inning.

Despite the fact that Cavender was benched and later ordered off the field by Umpire Howell during the argument in the first inning and that Kellerman was benched for questioning a decision the Dallas players did not lose an ounce of the pep and ginger that they displayed all the way.

The game was won in the fourth inning when the visitors gathered six hits off Rose Helm for a total of three runs. Up to this inning Helm had held the giants hitless and looked to be going good. He was sent to cover in the fifth inning after walking one batter and allowing another hit. Ogle, the veteran twirler, was sent to the mound in his place and he held Cavender's men scoreless the remainder of the game.

The luck seemed to be with the Dallas team. Every grounder and short hit by the Navigators seemed to be right in the hands of the infielders and the men who covered the outer gardens were always at the right place. On the other hand the enemy connected with bingles that fell just out of the reach of the infielders and too close in for the outfielders to get. Six of these came in a row in the fourth inning, interrupted only by one strike out.

The only tally Waco got to stave off a shut out came in the first inning and called for a mighty close decision by Umpire Howell. This play was easily the feature base running of the game. It came after Beck was out on a fly to Wilson at first and McMahon had struck out. McLaurin then sent a hot grounder to the pitcher and was safe at first when Mullins found the hit too hot to handle.

He stole second base and went to third on Wohlleben's hot bingle to third baseman Tullis. The ball hit Tullis' shin and bounded to one side and both runners were safe before he could recover the ball. And then came the double steal that netted Waco his only score. Wohlleben started for second and catcher Jackley threw to second to catch him. He slid to the plate just as Jackley caught the ball and went down to touch him. The umpire called him safe. Manager Cavender protested and was ordered to the bench. He was on his feet in a minute and was ordered out of the park. The police were called to execute Umpire Howell's orders. In the meantime Wohlleben stole second and Kellerman protested and was sent to the bench. Renard walked and Crichtlow ended the inning amid wild applause with a high fly to right field.

The score remained 1 and 0 until the fourth round when the Dallas team commenced to find Helm. Wilson, the first man up, singled to center. It was a short fly, just over second base. He went to second on Storch's single to the same territory. Jackley struck out and the crowd cheered. Tullis whiffed one to left field, scoring Wilson and Storch took third. Boone singled to center, scoring Storch, and Wiesler singled to the same place, scoring Tullis. Storch was caught trying to steal third base and was out when Helm run across the diamond and took the ball from Duguey. Mullins singled to left field, sending Wiesler to third. Harrison, sent in to replace Kellerman, struck out, ending the inning.

The Giants scored under very peculiar circumstances in the following inning. After Duncan walked and went to second on Wilson's single to left, Helm was supplanted by Ogle. Storch sacrificed both runners and Jackley lifted a high fly to Crichtlow in center. He made a good peg to third and caught Wilson, but Umpire Howell held that Duncan scored because the ball was made.

The best chance that Waco had to score was in the sixth inning when Crichtlow doubled to left field with one man out, but Duguey and Carson were easy outs on infield grounders. Renard got a single in the eighth inning with two men down and was left at first when Crichtlow lifted a high fly to right field.

A fast double play in the first of the eighth inning prevented the Giants from piling up more runs. Storch doubled to left field, but was caught napping off second. Jackley walked and was forced at second when Tullis

Crichtlow Makes First Two-Bagger

The first extra base hit at Katy park this season was made by Crichtlow in the sixth inning of yesterday's game. It was a smashing drive to the left field fence.

He grounded to Beck, and Storch was thrown out at first on the same play. The score in detail:

GREATEST CROWD WACO HAS GIVEN

ATTENDANCE AT BALL GAMES BROKEN AT OPENING OF THE SEASON.

PARADE BY THE ROOTERS CLUB

Mayor Pitches First Ball—Bouquet for Carson—Some of the Familiar Faces.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a baseball game at Waco saw the Waco Navigators go down to defeat yesterday at Katy park at the hands of Cavender's Dallas Giants. There were 2,713 paid admissions in addition to the children of the "Rooters' club." The grand stand and the bleachers were filled to capacity and many were turned into the field to see the game from the side lines. The weather was ideal for a ball game, although a little cold for the spectators.

The mammoth parade planned by the "Rooters' club" and followed promptly at 3:20 o'clock with the Bay university band leading. The streets were cleared by four mounted officers who later helped patrol the park and handle the large crowd.

The unique formation of the parade started on the corner of the city hall and immediately following the band came an automobile carrying the city commissioners. Next following were the county officials. The Dallas and Waco teams were next in the line.

The mayor and police chief rode in Fire Chief Prescott's car and followed the chemical and horse wagon of the central fire station that bore Chief Rooters' Bill Burrows who was armed with a rifle "colored" way back before the "war." He rode beside a sign that gave warning to all knackers. The remainder of the parade was made up of the officials of the Rooters' club and the rooters. It was about four blocks long.

The parade formed at the city hall and proceeded west on Austin street to Eighth street and thence on Eighth street to Jackson street and east to the corner of the Rooters' club. A thousand people lined Austin street to see the march and those who could not get away from their business joined the van at the park.

The stores closed promptly at 4 o'clock when the siren whistle, that had been sounding since 3 o'clock, was turned off. The Waco Business League gave forth the whistle again. Long before the whistle blew the grand stand was well filled with patrons and they steadily kept coming until there was no room left.

McKay Throws First Ball.

The first pitch of the first work out and great ovation went to Mayor Carson and his band of Navigators took the field. Umpire Howell called the game promptly at 4:25. Mayor James H. Mackey made an elaborate apology before he pulled his coat from his back and stepped to the center of the diamond. He delivered the ball to Kellerman, who was the first hitter for the Dallas team. He said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen, you are all aware that I am the greatest baseball pitcher in the world, but this morning I received a wireless from President Wilson and he told me to pitch a diamond star, and out of deference to him I will not try my best."

Immediately the mayor stripped off his coat and hat and started for the center of the diamond. Ross Helm generously let him wear his cap and the mayor then delivered his best. He wound up and sent the ball to the left side of the batter and the game was on.

The success of the opening day campaign conducted by the "Rooters' club" is attested by the over-filled space of the local club at bat, President Wilson, general freight and passenger agent of the Cotton Belt, was in the grand stand.

There were familiar faces in the grand stand. For instance, Jack Leane, general freight and passenger agent of the Cotton Belt, was in the grand stand.

Cook to Brainerd, hit by pitched ball, Hulse and Taylor, time of game, 1:50, umpire, Mulianey, attendance 3500.

San Antonio 6, Houston 1.

San Antonio, April 10.—With a big automobile parade preceding the game and newly elected Mayor Albert Steves throwing the first ball, President Block of the local club at bat, President Steves

of Houston umpiring and Vice President Dock Roberts of Houston catching, 1913 baseball in Texas was ushered in here today at the New Block stadium.

The Bronchos christened their new park by beating the Buffaloes 6 to 1.

Davis alone could get a hit off Browning, while the Bronchos pounded Ray hard. A home run over the fence by

L. Allen for the locals, with two on base in the third, featured the game, which was seen by a big crowd, although the new stands were not nearly filled.

McLaurin Gets a Good Start

Waco's left fielder makes first hit of season, steals the first base and scores first run by stealing home. This play occurred in the first inning of yesterday's game and saved Waco a shut-out. Manager Cavender of Dallas was ruled off the field for protesting the decision.

middle of the tier of seats in the center section. He was flanked on one side by W. S. Gillespie, city passenger and ticket agent, and on the other by W. L. Geer, commercial agent. Mr. Lebane is a "fan" of the right sort and never misses a game. The showing of Cotton Belt traffic department strength was a feature of the grand stand crowd.

J. Scott Hill had a seat up near the top, and on the row above him was John Doherty, who is to be a commissioner. Both are in the fat men's class.

Fire Chief Prescott was on the sidelines, while the chauffeur of his red car had a seat in the grand stand. Pat Gorman, street commissioner, John E. Wright, first commissioner, and J. A. Littlefield, sanitary commissioner, were scattered in the crowd, and Commissioner-elect John W. Foster was among those present.

District Judge R. L. Munroe went the whole length of the grand stand looking for a spot on which to place a cushion he carried in his hand. Ben Hartley, who travels for the Southwest Paper company of Dallas, and Tom E. Cranfill, who was a hot grounder from Waco, were on hand to root for the giants.

Ben Hartley, who travels for the Southwest Paper company of Dallas, and Tom E. Cranfill, who was a hot grounder from Waco, were on hand to root for the giants. Ben spread himself over a section of the grand stand.

Catholic Beckman, that well known cathedral priest, and W. M. Woodall, commercial secretary, both of Temple, were on hand, being seated in opposite ends of the grand stand.

New Williams and Albert Boggs were an interested pair on a big high seat while such well known fellows as Lane orand, John Sears, James S. Harrison, were sprinkled about in the crowd.

Billy Holt, president of the Rooters' club, was very much in evidence. Clarence Cox and Jim Davis divided a couple of social seats, where they could see the plate and watch 'em come over.

Eugene Weil, who came back from New York to wait for the cold weather to blow over, had his old seat in a comfortable corner.

County Clerk John W. Baker was one of the well known spectators. Henry Harrison of New Orleans, prominent among the traveling men, had a seat among a crowd of his Waco friends.

H. H. Martin, who has been selling shirts and collars in this territory for big manufacturers for the past thirty years, was one of the visitors to watch the game, and applaud good plays without fear or favor.

Tom Bush and Will Abell had a box, entertained some young ladies and made it a delightful social occasion. Ralph McLendon was the only man absent from the game. He was in San Antonio on business and about the time the game started, Tom Carson told a telegram from him wishing him good luck and expressing regret that he could not attend.

Charles R. Turner, Ollie Jenkins and Horace Pickett were back with the crowd, as usual, every year.

A. C. Patten came in with the crowd, and just behind him was W. V. Crawford of Sanger's, both being enthusiastic Ad League members.

Bart Moore and 2,124 persons were present at the game, or thereabouts.

JOHNSON FAVORS FAST BALL

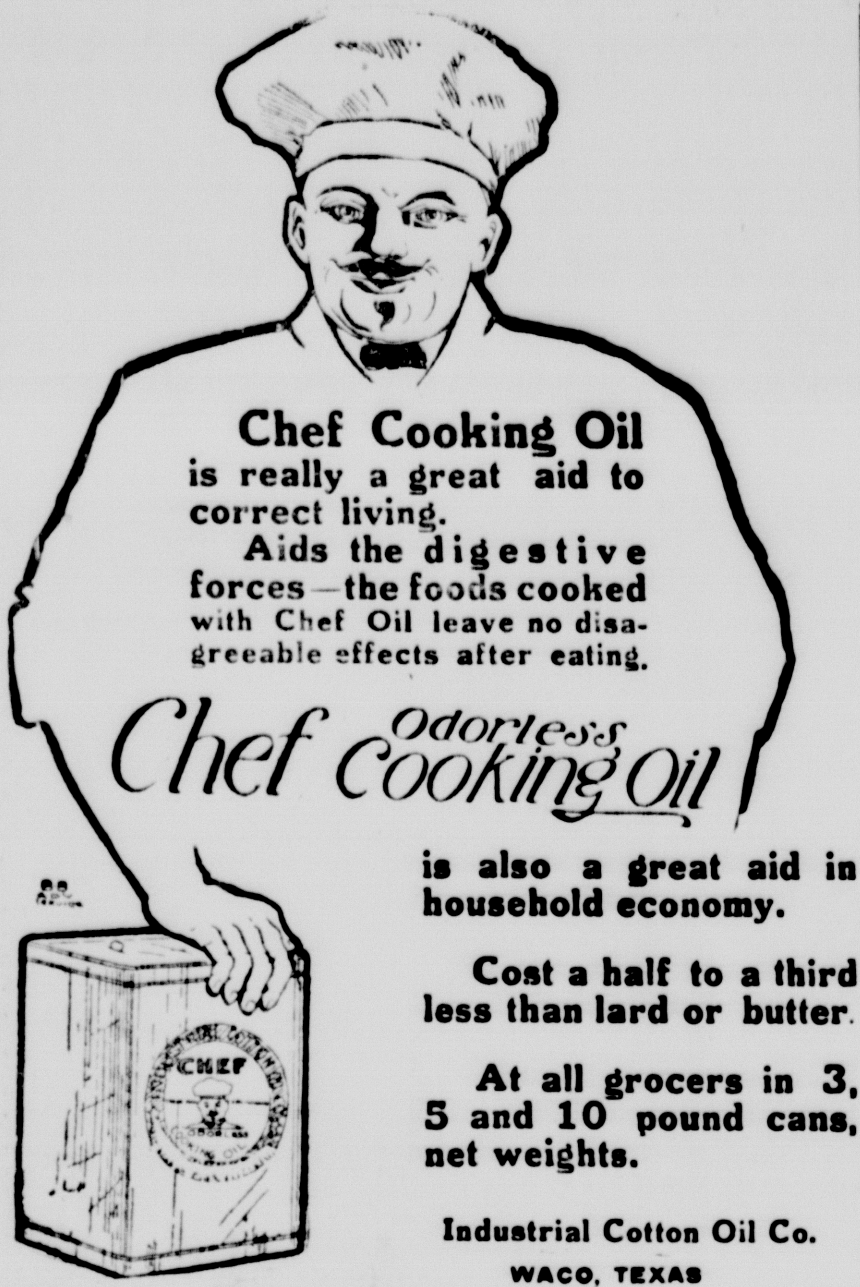

President of American League Has Instructed Umpires to Keep the Games in Progress.

Chicago, April 10.—Faster baseball than ever has been seen is promised for 1913 by President Johnson of the American league. An attempt will be made this year to see that the games are played in less time than in former years. In this connection Mr. Johnson today said:

"The umpires have been instructed to see that little time is wasted and the managers will co-operate to cut off the minutes which mark the difference between the short snappy game and the one which is long drawn out and which loses much of its charm and interest because of that fact."

RIGGINS SELLS TO HARRY BAINE

CLEANS UP TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS PROFIT ON FRANKLIN STREET PROPERTY.

HAS OWNED IT FIVE MONTHS

Purchaser Expects to Put Up a Two or Three-story Building—Adjoins Primm Site.

J. W. Riggins, through the T. J. Primm agency, yesterday sold to H. M. Baine, forty-five feet on Franklin street at the approximate price of $100 a front foot, or about $32,000 as a total consideration.

The prospects of the building of the Primm building at Sixth and Franklin, the construction of the Primm building, the almost universal opinion that Mr. Watt will within a short time make improvements on the Hotel Royal site, have all operated to add a value to Franklin street property within the past few months, and there is a decided advance in price as well as demand. This deal has been pending but a few days, and was closed quickly. The property which has just been sold was offered by Riggins in his advertisement in the Morning News Sunday. The property sold is located on Franklin street, on the south side, between Sixth and Seventh streets, and is adjoining the Primm building. Mr. Riggins has owned it about five months and it is understood he has cleaned up about $10,000 net profits on the purchase and sale.

Mr. Riggins said yesterday: "I believe the safest plan is to take a profit, but not to expect too much on the investment. I believe that the people who own property, and especially suburban property, will drive away development if prices are tilted too much."

Mr. Baine has bought the property as an investment. He said yesterday it is his intention to improve it at once and that he will erect a two or three-story building. He has not formulated his plans.

Mr. Riggins also has sold lots on North Sixth street near Garland.

BAPTISTS ADJOURN

PROF. S. P. BROOKS, PRESIDENT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY, DELIVERS ADDRESS.

Two-day Convention of Texas Laymen is Beneficial and Marked With Success.

Dallas, Tex., April 10.—"Co-operating Agencies" was the general theme of the Baptist laymen's convention today. Perhaps the greatest number that has yet attended the meeting was present and gave closest attention to the discussions put forward by some of the best scholars within the confines of the state. The meeting closed tonight.

The meeting was formally opened by R. H. Coleman, of Dallas, with a short song service, followed by an invocation from Dr. Smith. Dr. J. J. Robert of Hillsboro then introduced the subject of the morning, with a few words from him on the subject of the convention as a whole. W. H. Wolfe announced that on account of the weather and his illness, Col. C. C. Slaughter would be unable to preside at the meeting, and introduced to the convention William Pierson of Greenville. Judge Pierson had just arrived in the city during the morning, coming from his duties as judge of the fifth district court, to attend the convention. With a few timely words on the subject allotted to him, "All Working Together," Judge Pierson turned the speakers' platform over to Prof. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, who was scheduled as the principal speaker.

Dr. Brooks, in his subject, "The Christian School and the Missionary Enterprise," he was convincing in his views from the moment he began, and carried his audience through a series of arguments that were enlightening in every way. Beginning with the relation of the missionary and the school, he showed conclusively where they never conflict. He then said that not often is found a man who is chosen leader of things in which knowledge with which to lead. He pointed, beginning with St. Paul, to examples of history, in which experienced men and leaders of recognized ability have been men well taught and versed in ways of the world.

"God gives limbs, but does not teach men to walk; he gives a tongue but does not teach men to talk; it remains for us to gain knowledge, one from another," said Dr. Brooks. He spoke for thirty minutes and was given hearty applause by the audience.

Following Dr. Brooks, Rev. Harvey Beauchamp of Dallas gave a great lecture on "The Sunday School a Great Missionary Opportunity."

He was followed by C. C. Coleman, secretary of the state mission board, and Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, who concluded the morning service with an address about the things in store for the Baptists of the state and the country at large.

Barriers Are Coming Down.

Twenty years ago the scope of feminine talents such as had been cultivated by the higher education and trained by specialized studies was seriously limited and well known educated girls anxious to earn their own livelihood, says the Philadelphia Ledger, found their opportunities restricted by the barriers of sex in numerous directions. Slowly but surely, and almost insensibly in many instances have these barriers been melting away. Now it seems easier to count the professions which still exclude feminine practitioners than those which admit women to a share in their privileges and emoluments. So the position as it concerns women's professional opportunities is now being reversed. Every day opens up new opportunities for women's employment and they are not slow to seize the opportunities which lie before them.

LARGE ROYAL FAMILIES.

European Sovereign Households of More Than Ten Children.

(Le Cri de Paris).

Prince Louis of Bavaria, who succeeded his father the Prince Regent Luitpold, has three sons and seven daughters. But he does not hold the record among the sovereign houses for the largest family.

Prince Robert of Parma, who died five years ago, left by two marriages 21 children. His eldest daughter was the first wife of Ferdinand of Bulgaria. Abdul Hamid is the father of seven princes and six princesses. Nicholas of Montenegro has seven daughters and four sons. Kaiser Wilhelm has six sons and one daughter. George V. of England, has four sons and one daughter.

The czar of Russia has four daughters and a son. The Count of Caserte, son of King Ferdinand of the two Sicilies, gave his name to 11 children, every one of whom, sons and daughters, were called Marie. In Austria the Archduke Leopold Salvator has five daughters and four sons; the Archduke Franz Salvator, four sons and four daughters.

Fortunately these large families have not, as the rest of us, any anxiety about the morrow. The 21 children of Robert of Parma have divided among them the 200,000 francs left by their ancestor, and this will enable them to keep warm through the winter.

There are a number of things which seem to be wholly impracticable unless you have tried them.—Puck.

150 WOMEN ATTEND

STEPHENVILLE, TEX., WELCOMES CLUB MEMBERS OF THE STATE.

Quannah and Abilene Seek 1914 Session—Tea and Reception Mark Opening.

Stephenville, Tex., April 10.—The eleventh annual convention of the First District Women's Clubs opened here this morning with an attendance of about 150 club women from the various cities of the district.

Mayor J. B. Bennett extended a welcome on behalf of all Stephenville men, women and children, and Mrs. Ben Bassel extended a welcome for the women of Stephenville. Mrs. E. B. Barnes of Snyder made the response.

A feature of the morning session, held in the First Baptist church, was an address by Mrs. Lucile Brian Gilmore upon "Rural Clubs." Mrs. Gilmore formerly was of Fort Worth, but now lives in Dallas.

Reports of the various districts consumed most of the session.

Two Seek 1914 Meeting.

Quannah and Abilene have special delegates in the field asking for next year's convention. No canvass has been made of delegates and the delegates hearing invitations have merely announced the purpose of their presence in Stephenville.

The members of the Twentieth Century club alone are hostesses in Stephenville for the entire first district. Less than fifty women have undertaken the responsibility of entertaining delegates from eighty clubs. The Stephenville homes are open for guests and in each club member's residence is a special party.

Autolog Parties Given.

Autolog parties were the order on Wednesday afternoon. The cold weather and rain prevented the tour to Dublin, but Stephenville roads were excellent for travel.

Mrs. J. Collier George, president of the Twentieth Century Club, and general chairman over all committees, entertained with a reception. The visitors were special guests and members of the club and the district officers stood in the line. The receiving rooms were decorated with bowls filled with sprays of white stock and fern leaves, and with vases of white roses. Refreshments in two courses were served.

All Officers Present.

The district officers are all present for the convention, and this session promises to be a record breaker for work. The official staff includes the following: Mrs. J. I. McDowell, Big Springs, president; Mrs. C. H. Newby, Quannah, vice president; Mrs. W. W. Rix, Big Springs, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. R. E. Buchanan, Fort Worth, parliamentarian.

These officers will be succeeded by a new staff after the Friday election. The nomination of the new officers is in the hands of a committee of which Mrs. R. E. Buchanan of Fort Worth is chairman. The other members are Mrs. L. A. Wells, Amarillo, and Mrs. Roscoe Cox, Stephenville.

Details Not Neglected.

Although there is but one club in Stephenville, the organization of its members is so efficient that every detail of the convention runs smoothly. Mrs. J. Collier George is president of the Stephenville Twentieth Century Club and Mrs. R. E. Cox is secretary. The local committees are:

Finance—Mrs. Hill Perry, chairman; Mrs. Charles Blakeney, Mrs. Lee Young, Mrs. W. P. Orr, Mrs. Lee Williams.

Entertainment—Mrs. Lee Young, chairman; Mrs. Jack Killain, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Hunt Perry, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Charles Froh, Mrs. Ben Bassel, Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Mothershead, Mrs. Day Evans, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Orr, Mrs. Blakeney.

Decorations—Mrs. W. P. Orr, chairman; Mrs. Bassel, Mrs. Uplian Holt, Mrs. Lee Williams, Mrs. Charles Froh, Mrs. Marshall Ferguson, Mrs. Blakeney.

Homes—Mrs. H. H. Mothershead, chairman; Mrs. Ator, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Shelton. Badges and Transportation—Mrs. Ben Bassel, Mrs. Blakeney.

Pages—Misses Joe Barnett, Ina Young, Willie Davis and Jessie Bennett.

The entire club is on the reception committee.

Notice to Water Consumers.

Water rents for the April quarter are now due and payable at the office of the Waco City Waterworks in the city hall. Fifteen days from the first are allowed in which to pay. Please come in before the last day and avoid the rush. After the 15th remember the penalty.

CONDITIONS AT LITTLE ROCK.

Railroad Traffic is Partially Resumed on Two Roads.

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—Railroad traffic practically suspended out of Little Rock yesterday, was partially resumed today. However, both the Rock Island and Iron Mountain railroads are unable to run trains to Hot Springs on account of washouts and that city is isolated.

Two trains with 140 passengers are marooned at Benton, a small town midway between Little Rock and Hot Springs.

Chicago has the nearest firemen and the cleanest firehouses of any city in the world, in the opinion of Oniskin Panikoff, Imperial fire commissioner of Harbin, Manchuria, who is touring the United States for the purpose of gathering information concerning American methods of fire fighting and fire prevention.

The Audubon (N. J.) board of trade plans to make Audubon the "town of roses." The board will purchase thousands of rose plants which it will distribute among the property owners. In the late summer a committee will visit each of the growers and prizes will be awarded to the most successful inhabitants of Audubon who own their homes.

DUAL TRACK MEET SATURDAY

Southwestern and Baylor Will Contest Honors at Carroll Field—Baptists Practicing.

The track teams of Baylor University and Southwestern University of Georgetown will meet on Carroll Field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the first and only intercollegiate dual track meet that will be held in Waco this year. The event is prized to be one of exceptional interest, for the two teams are about evenly matched, so far as can be learned, and there is a spirit of keen rivalry existing between them.

The baseball teams of the two institutions held even honors for the season, each having won a game from the other, and the result of the track meet will determine the athletic supremacy of the two colleges.

Captain Ponder of Baylor has a strong bunch of men out for the various events of the afternoon, including sprinting and long-distance runs, high and broad jumps, hurdle races, pole vaulting, discus throwing, hammer throwing and shot putting. He expects the green and gold to come out of the meet with a majority of the points. Baylor representatives to the state track meet at Austin later in the season will be largely determined by the results in this dual contest.

On the other hand, the Methodists also have a strong track team, as they always do, and they are coming to Waco Saturday with the determination to take off first honors.

TAX EXEMPTION FOR FACTORIES

IS THE PROPOSAL OF CHAIRMAN A. R. MCCOLLUM AS TO THE CHARTER.

POLICY IN THE PAST IS CITED

Asks for Legal Opinion as to Its Constitutionality—To Forbid Peddler Cars—Duties of City Auditor.

Chairman A. R. McCollum of the city charter revision committee last night suggested to the committee the insertion of a clause in the new charter exempting manufacturing concerns from taxation. The matter was left for Judge Surratt to frame according to the state laws on such matters, and will be passed upon at a future meeting of the committee. Judge Surratt informed the committee that he believed the city had the right to place such a clause in its charter, provided that it affected all manufacturing concerns, both those already located in Waco, and those that might come.

In reference to this, Mr. McCollum said: "The committee of the committee, I want to request Judge Surratt to investigate and report at our next meeting on this question: 'Can the city of Waco, in its charter, without violating state laws, exempt manufacturing industries from city taxation?'

"If it shall appear that such exemption can be made, I am of the opinion that the policy is not alone worthy of our careful consideration, but it is likely to command the approval of the people of Waco."

"We have virtually agreed (that is, this committee has agreed) to recommend to the people in the new charter that all money on hand and evidences of credit shall be subject to city taxation. In deciding to do that we have been actuated by considerations of what we believe to be sound public policy, a policy that promises substantial benefits to the city, justifying a virtue of necessity, so to speak, for everybody realizes that money and evidences of credit are able to evade the tax gatherer, and we do not want to lose anything by exempting them. We can pay no money and no taxes and like instruments from city taxation, then by parity of reasoning we may as well do as much for manufacturing industries, and for the same reason (at least in part) that to do so will be sound public policy, promising beneficial material results. I will not consume time now by dwelling on the nature of the promised benefits, but the proposal is one to impress and appeal to an intelligent and progressive citizenry, who can say to capital and enterprise that Waco does not tax manufacturing then we invite such industries for then money that would be paid to the city in annual taxes is a fixed and certain basis for annual dividends of such industries."

"We conceded the wisdom of such a policy when we deliberately fixed the city lines so as to exclude the William Cameron & Co. plant—and that was right. But, if possible to do so, why not obviate the need of such subsidies—throw our gates wide open to all industries—and I would see a broad construction of that word industry—and invite capital here, assuming it of practical encouragement."

"In proposing money and credits we have made a good start. To take in manufacturing industries is to go further on the road which we hope leads to local progress and prosperity, getting gradually, but by conservative progress, nearer to what the wisdom of this era will recognize as the true, equitable basis for revenue, which is land."

I am not advocating that all revenue shall come from land, which is a single tax theory, but I do believe that as we lessen the tax load on property of other descriptions and rely more and more on land for revenue we shall help our people and help our city."

It will require time to do this, so for the present I should like to fix out if we can legally do Waco great service by making manufacturing industry tax free, so far as Waco is concerned."

TO GIVE DIME A WEEK.

Newsboys Will Contribute to Fund for a Paid Worker.

Several of the newsboys of the city, desiring to have a part in the work of providing a suitable place for their headquarters and a man to devote his full time and efforts to the welfare of the working boys of the city, have asked the solicitors for a fund with which to carry out this program for the privilege of making a small weekly contribution of 10 cents each. There has never been a time when the working boys of the city, in whose behalf the club has been operating for the past four years, did not appreciate all that has been done in their behalf and none are more desirous of seeing the plans for a boys' headquarters and a good worker provided than they. Realizing some of the obstacles which they have to face they are ambitious to overcome them, and are overcoming many of them, and the fact that they are willing to contribute a portion of their small means to the purpose mentioned is taken by the social workers engaged in the club, to mean that they will make the highest possible use of the opportunities which the enlargement of the work of the club will bring to them.

And it is doubted whether there will be a larger proportionate contribution to the fund to employ a worker and secure headquarters than that of 10 cents per week which several of the boys have professed a desire to give.

System of Check on Funds.

The discussion of the various duties of the auditor came in for a lengthy discussion again last night. The committee is desirous of having a perfect system of check placed on all city funds. Much time was also required in arranging the different sections and articles of the charter in order. In making the revision, the old charter is first revised in the old order, and the revisions placed in the proper class in the revised charter. So many additions and revisions have been made to the charter under which the city is now governed that articles having no relation to each other are grouped together. The committee is very careful to get this grouping properly made in the charter that they are now framing.

Commissioner J. A. Littlefield was instructed by the committee to secure a copy of the new enabling act recently passed by the house and senate at Austin. This is the act which empowers the cities of the state to form their charters.

A clause was inserted in the charter which provides for cases of emergency in the purchase of supplies of the city. A former provision calls for all supplies to be furnished by bid. This emergency clause empowers the commissioners to purchase supplies in an emergency to any amount upon a three-fourths vote of the members of the commission.

The club will be in Hillsboro today and arrangements have been made for accommodating a large crowd at their appearance there tonight.

In addition to the regular club members, Miss Fay Loving will appear as soloist, adding a very pleasing variety to the program.

Local interest attaches to the appearance of this organization in Waco from the fact that two Waco boys, A. M. and R. F. Gribble, Jr., sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Gribble of this city, are members of the club. Saturday night's program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.
